1987 Scimitar

* Steve *

you're a great guy that I've gotten to know this year. You can be sweet & nice if you want to. It's been a lot of fun in typing with you in there. Although you pick on me a lot, you're a great friend. Good luck in the future. Have lots of fun, but stay out of trouble. Keep in touch & write (You've got my address, unfortunately). Good luck in the army! HAVE FUN!

CONGRADULATIONS!

Friends always,
Colette

P.S. Don't forget the little people!

Steve -

I'm very glad to have met you this year and very glad to have had you as a neighbor. I'm only sorry that we will be moving this year, otherwise, we could have become better friends over the summer. I will always consider you my friend and you can always consider me a friend as well. I will miss you when we leave here. I wish you all the best in the world.

Steve,
you have been such a help to me in typing class this year. Thanks for all of your effort
Mr. Downing

-Steve-
You're a good friend & I'm glad to have met you! Try to stay out of trouble in that K's world your about to enter. It's going to be alot harder! Good luck in everything.
Love,
Stacey

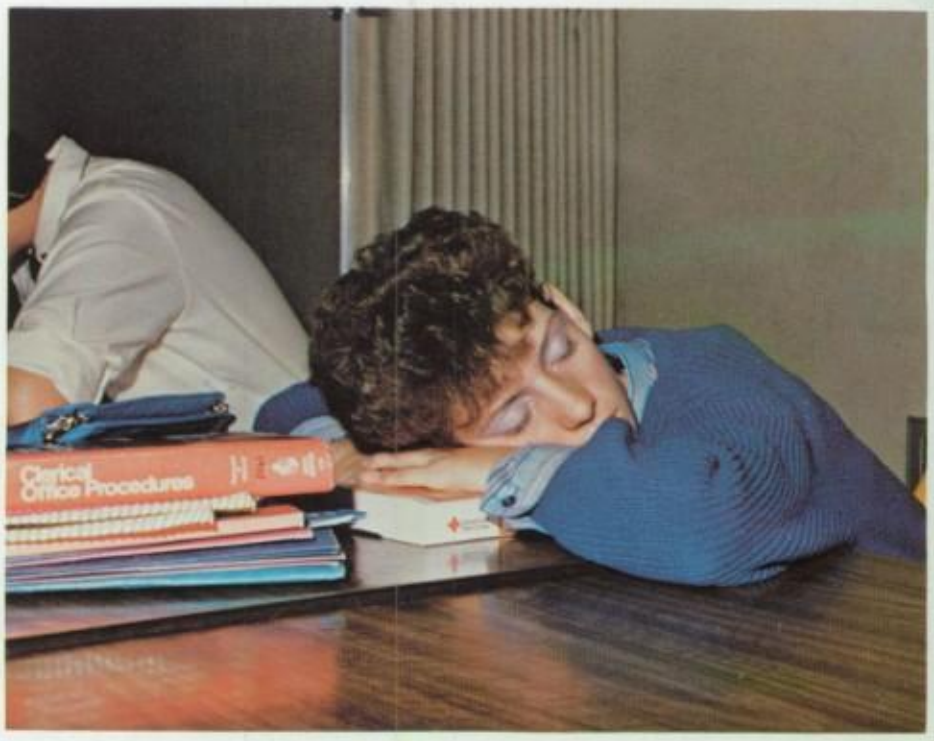
Now Is The Time . . .

High school is a period in time that cannot be replaced. High school is a time to make friends, to become involved, to have fun, and to learn. The high school years are to be remembered and cherished forever — now is the time.



Lola Stinson uses her valuable study hall time to catch up on her sleep.

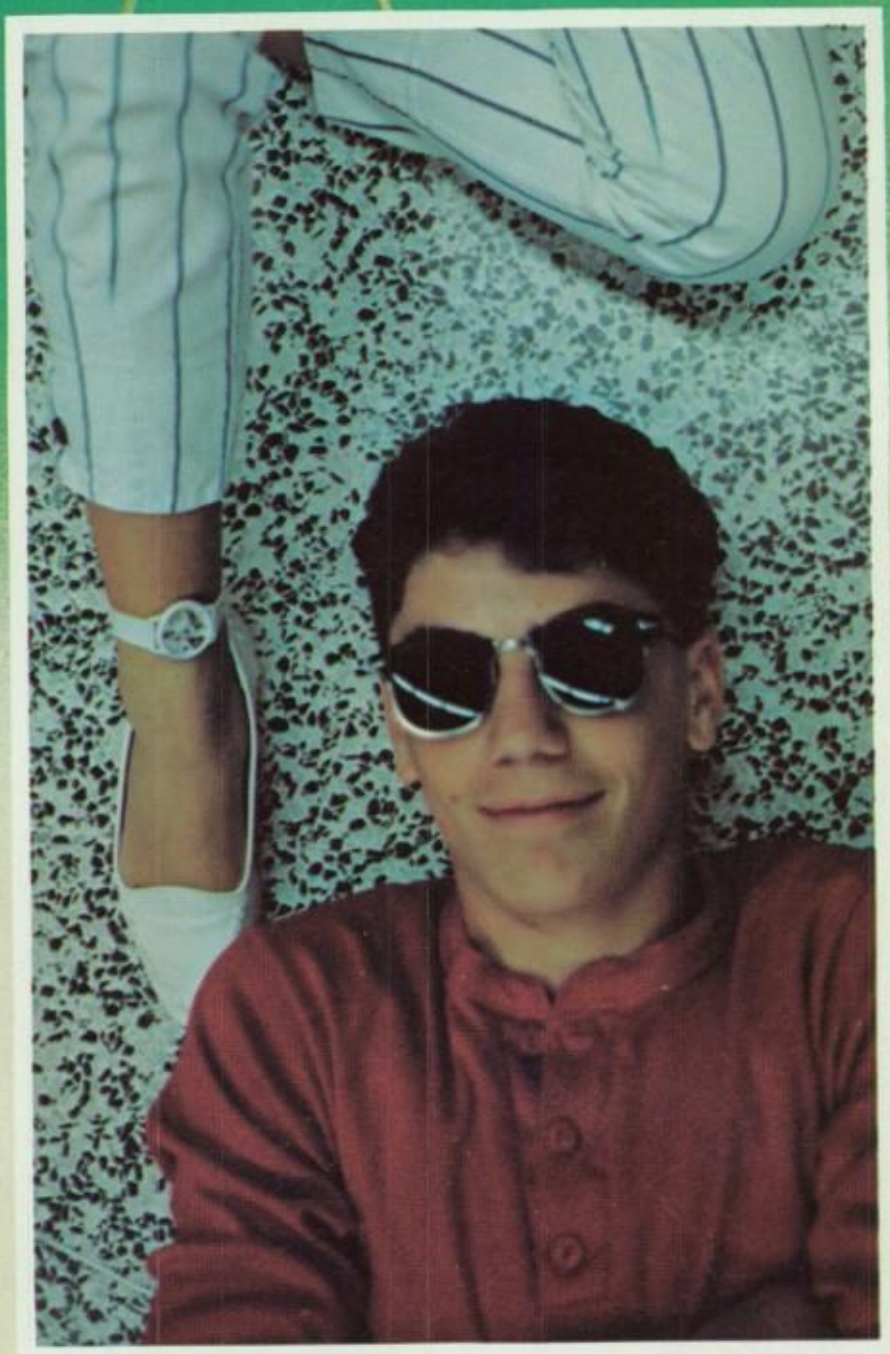
After a long exhausting day, Mrs. Slaughter kicks off her shoes and grades some papers.

Leigh Brandenburg and Carrie Mabrey both wear colorful outfits for underclass pictures.

Brenda Barkdull eagerly awaits a pass out of class from Mrs. Schug.

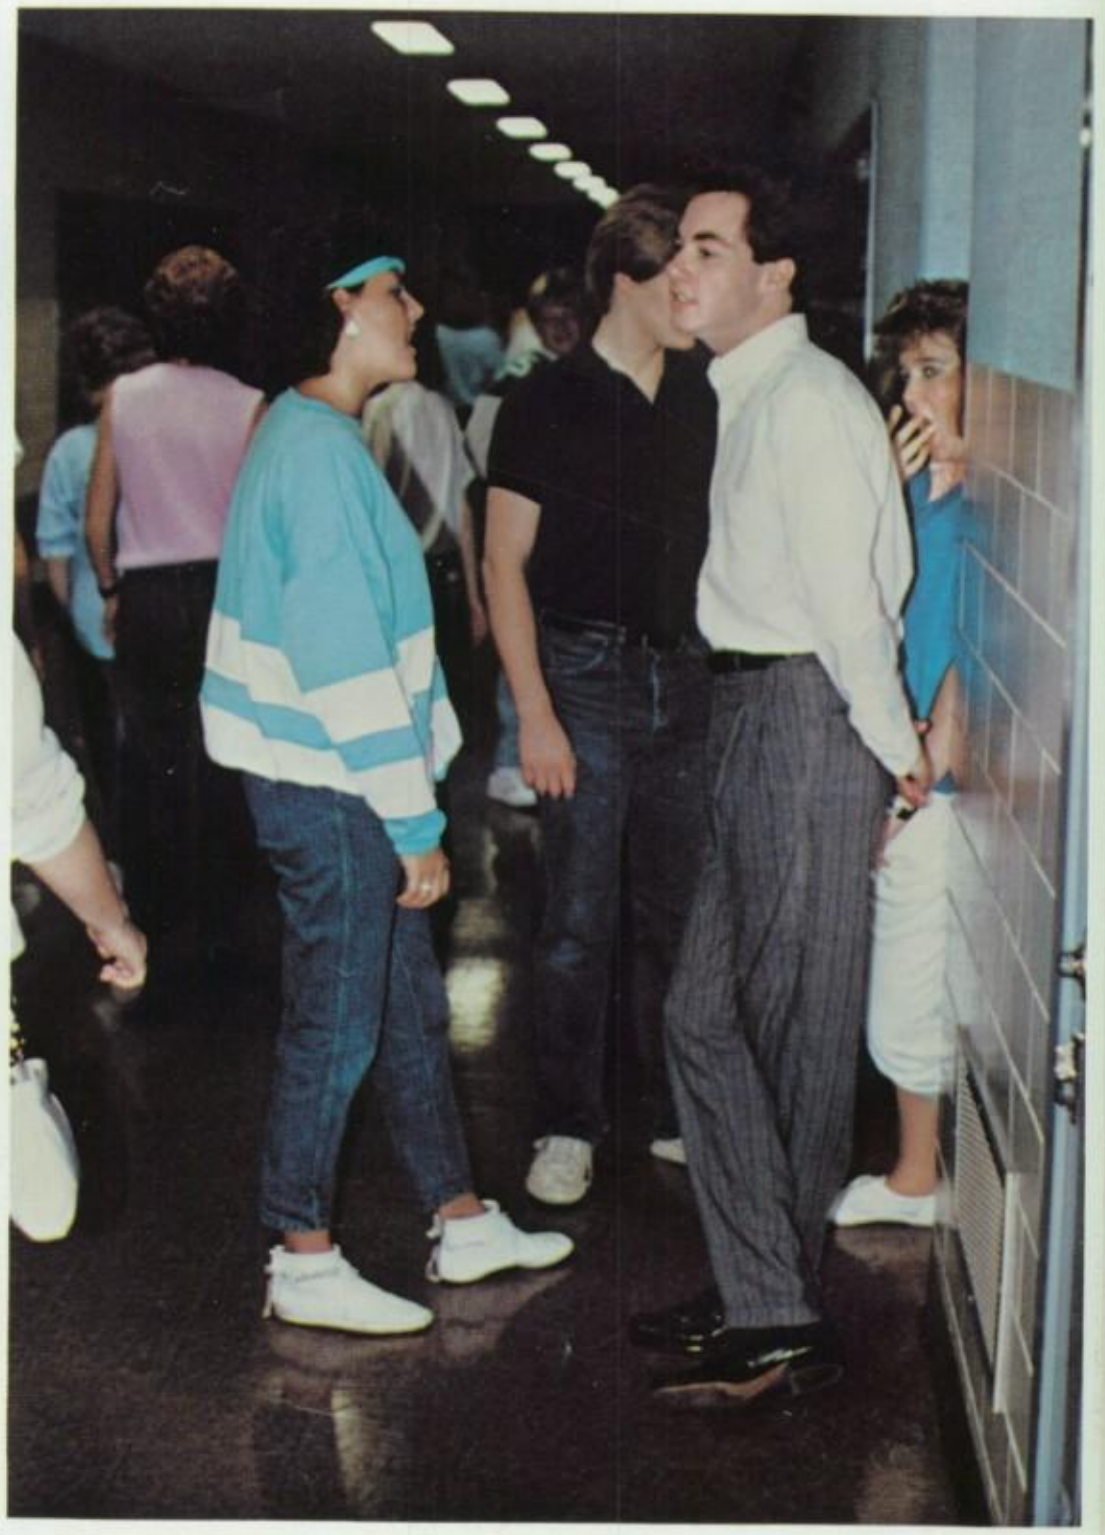
Kim Ockomon wonders, "What do I do to get this word processor working?"

Heidi Davis and Janice Coughlan are caught chatting between classes.

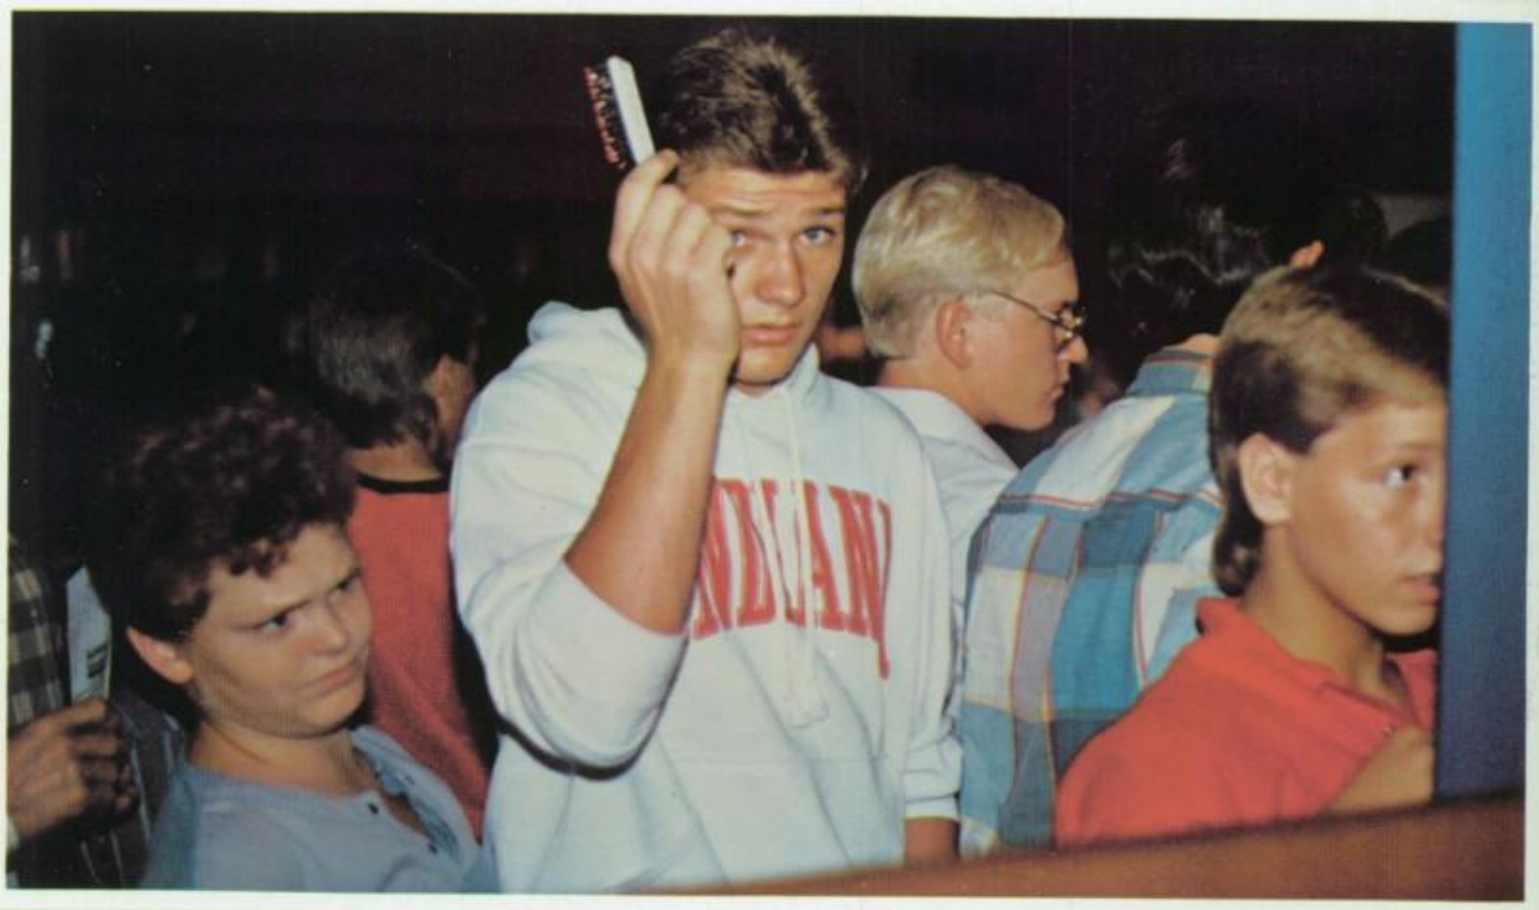


Jason Swain found the floor to be the coolest spot in the school during the first two weeks.

Kim Townsend spent frustrating hours after school working on her program.



After sleeping in this summer, Tammie Steele, Brent Shoemaker, and Darcie Micheal feel it is too early to be at school.



After a hard day at school, David Reddick takes time out for a Pepsi.

Homecoming requires a lot of work on the part of the students. Here Julie Lusk and Jennifer Isbell draw posters for the dance.

Covering every inch of the extremely small locker, Jeff Heath frantically searches for his lost assignment.

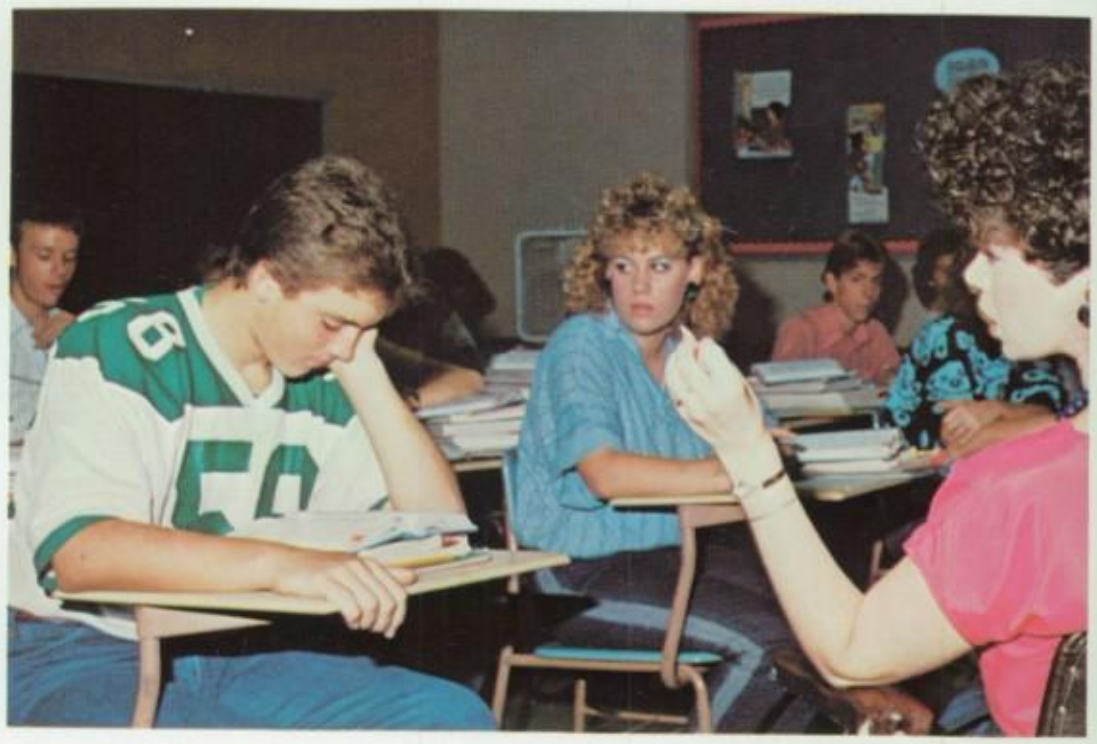
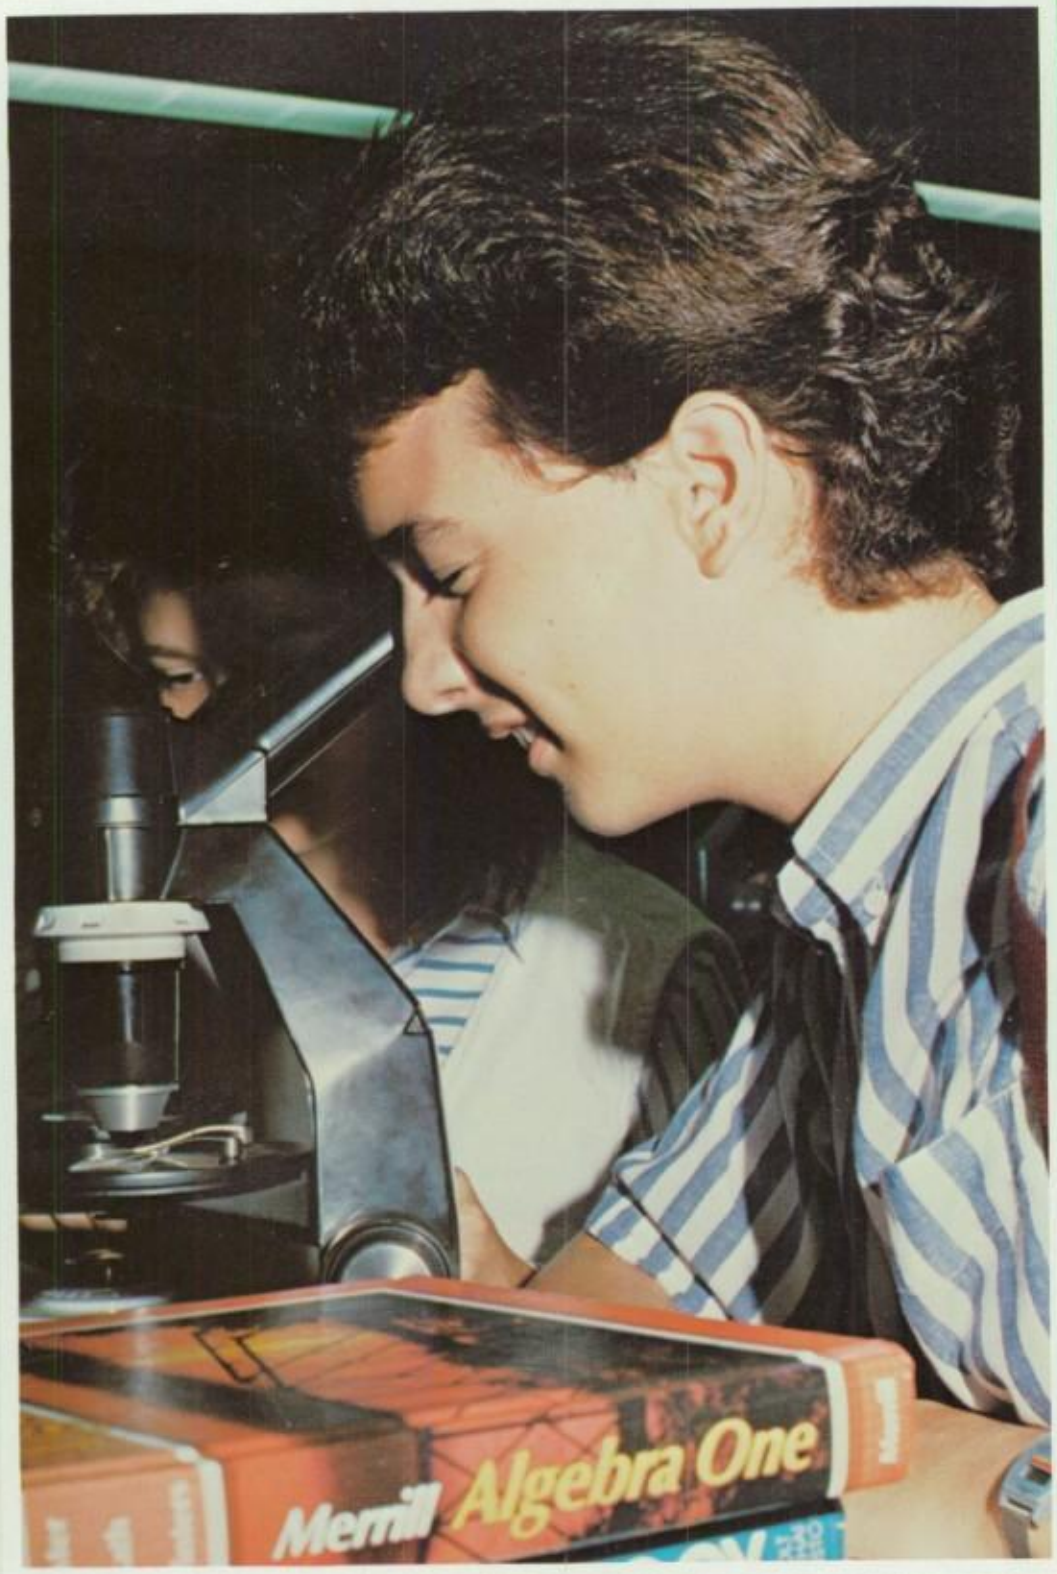
Robert Goodwin expresses his homecoming spirit, along with wearing the appropriate gear for the rainy evening.



Mrs. Sporinsky lectures to her class about the parts of speech.

It was a long hot day at school. Angie Mays relaxes with a Mountain Dew while awaiting the arrival of her bus.

Ann Broschart, Jennifer Long, and Chris Marshall struggle to complete their Shakespeare assignment before school.



Todd Young masters the microscope in biology class.

After rapidly eating lunch, the majority of the students gather in the main hall.

In the morning before school, the main hall is a place for friends to visit.

PENDLETON HEIGHTS CLASS OF 1987

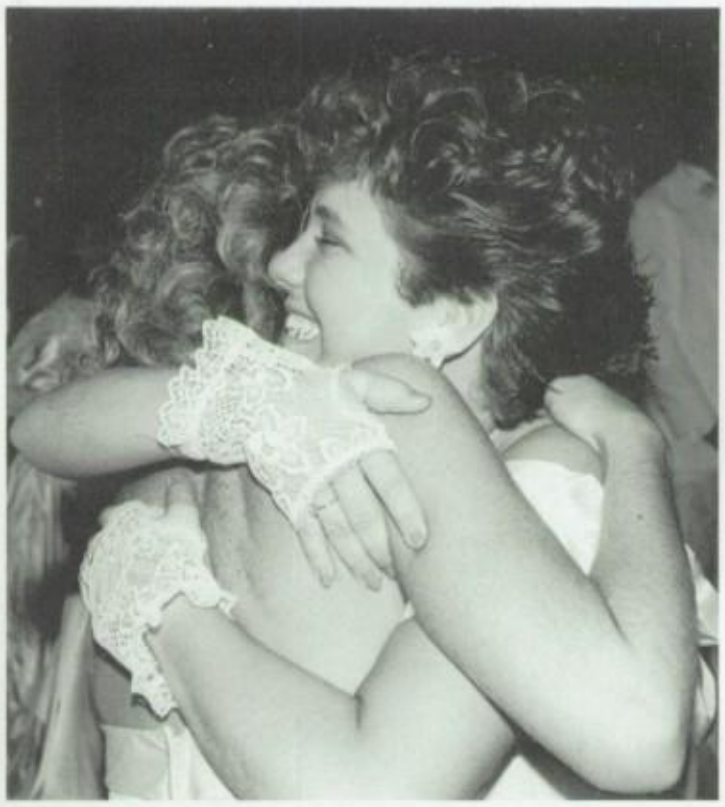
The 1986 Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Egyptian room of the Murat Temple. Pastel decorations were displayed by the floral arrangements and the pastel table cloths. Special lights encircled the room, while students and faculty members danced the night away with the band Indy Express. Cathy King and Jason Barton reigned over the evening of "Almost Paradise." Kellie Morgan and Jason Carmack were crowned princess and prince.

The dress of the evening was formal, as displayed by Steve Poor and Amy Ashby.

Jennifer Weaver and Eric Wiggins dance the night away.



Julie King congratulates her sister Cathy on becoming 1986 Prom Queen.

Crowding on the dance floor were many students and faculty members.

"Almost Paradise"

Cami Baxter and Scott Riggins enjoy the music of Indy Express.

Hurray for Hollywood!

Hurray for Hollywood was the theme for the 1986 post prom. The juniors and seniors enjoyed many different things this year along with some of the traditional activities. Students participated in the making of a movie, signing their names to the walk of fame, a performance by the Beatles, Sonny and Cher, and the Supremes.

Many exciting prizes were given away during drawings. Needless to say, a fun time was had by all.

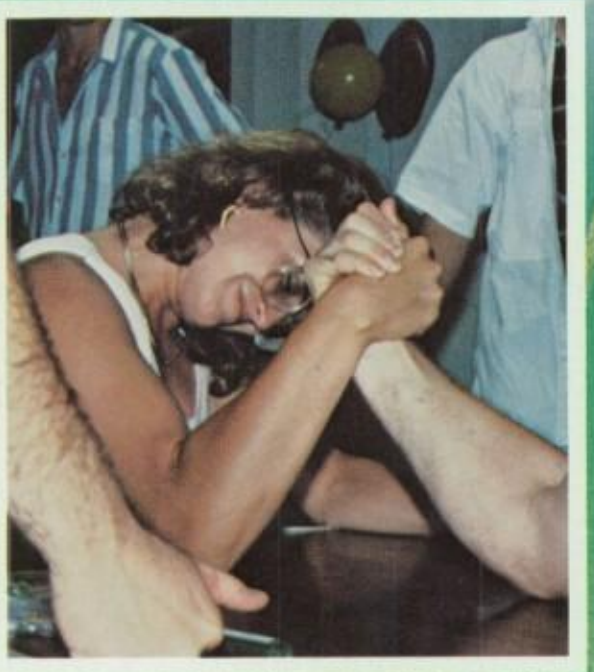
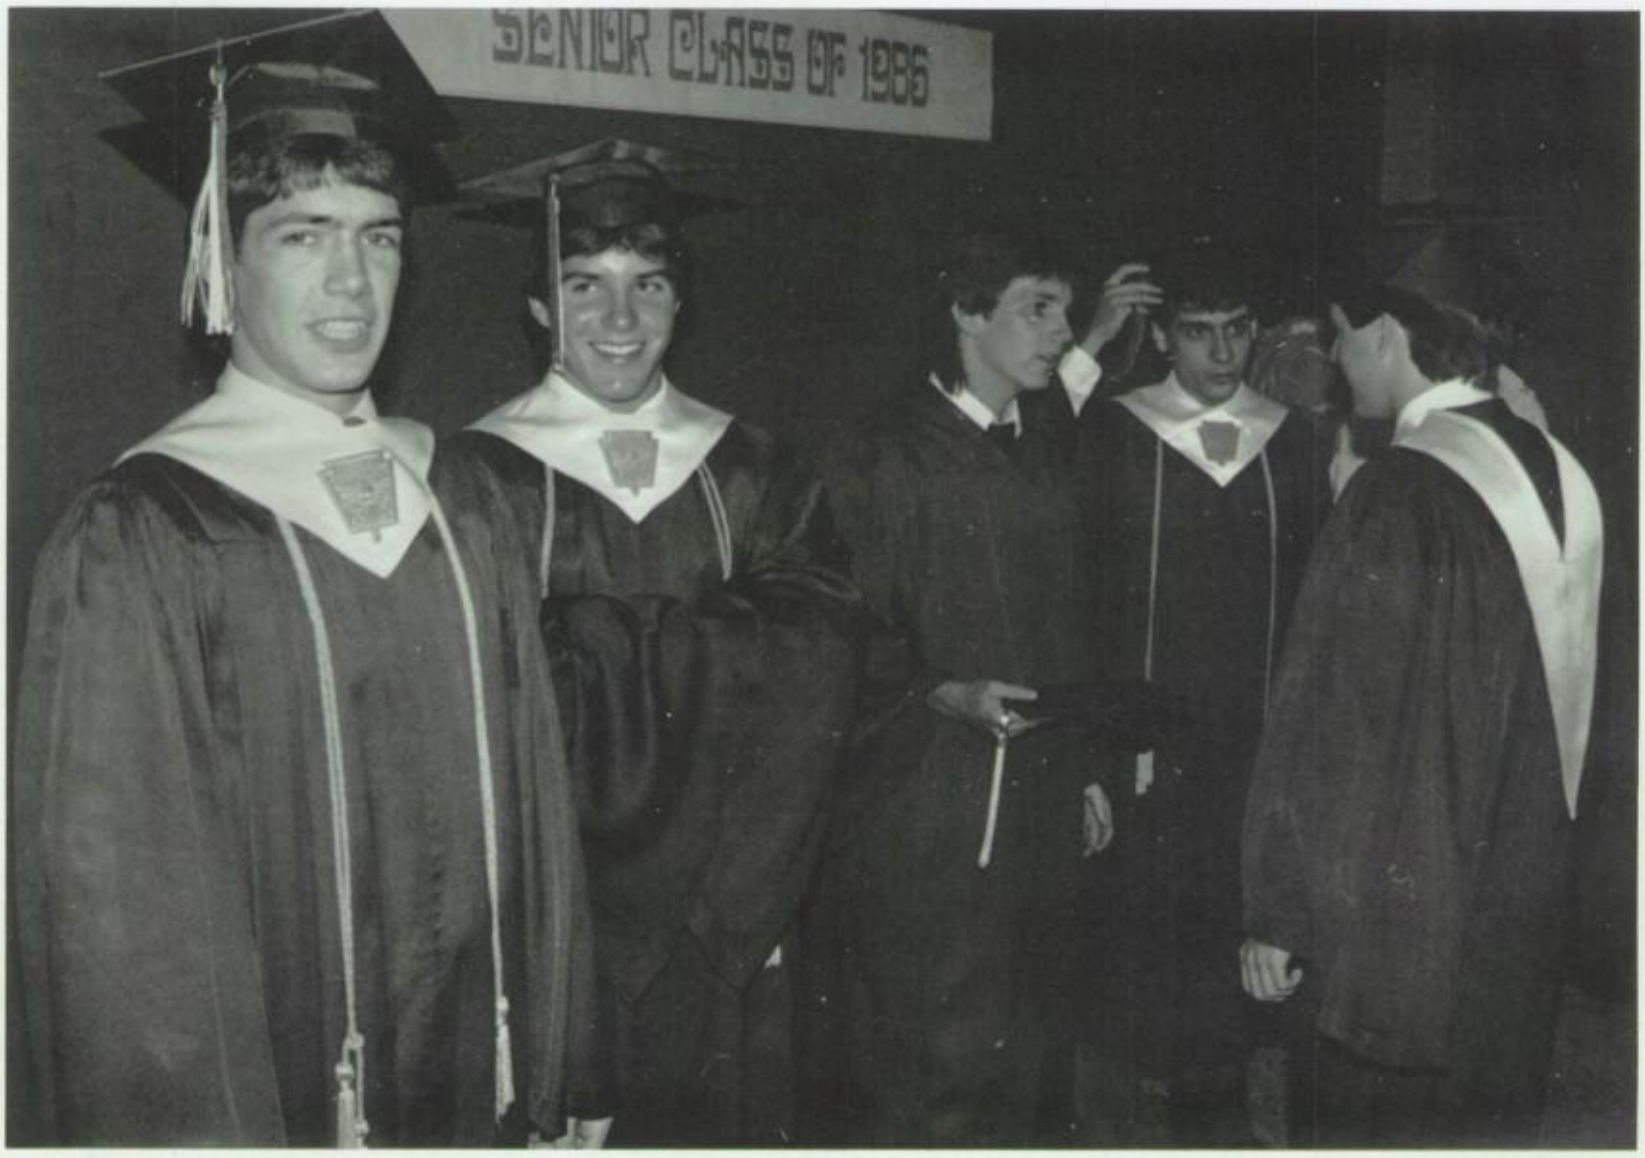
Below: Janie Shariff puts Mr. Medler to the test in arm wrestling.



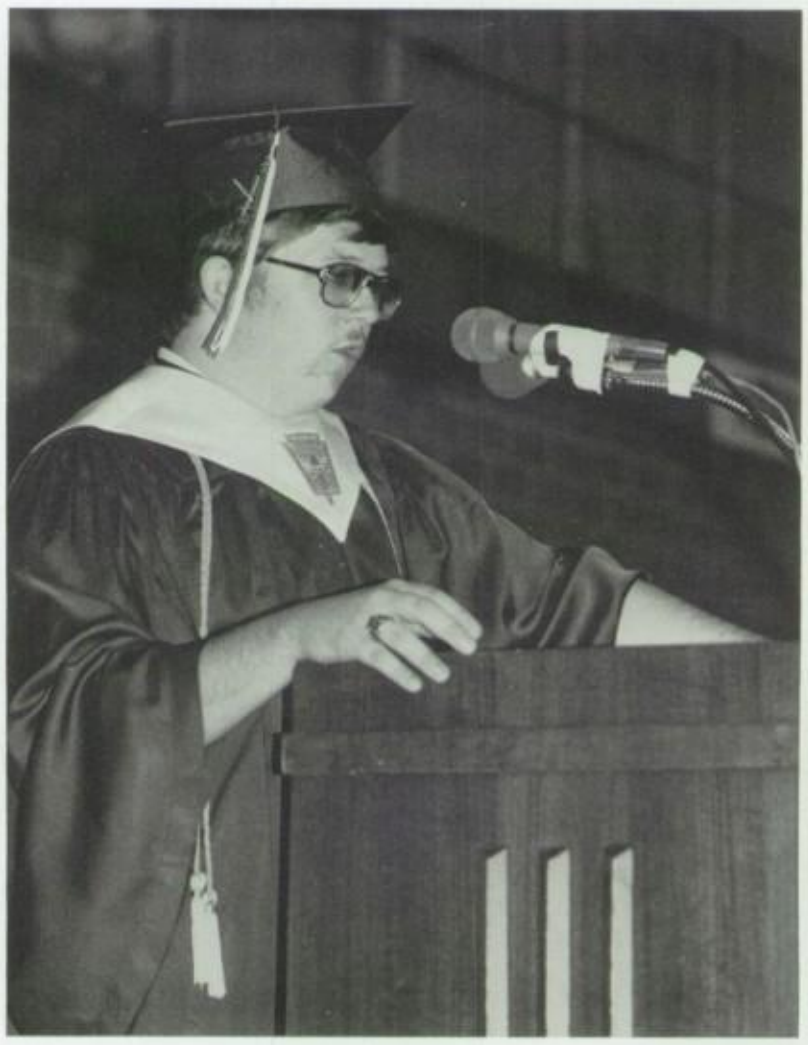
Amanda Owens and her date take time out to enjoy a ice cream sundae at "Arnolds".

"I Will Stand ..." 1986 Class



Mike Harper and Jimmy Robinson show their relief and enthusiasm as they graduate with the class of 1986.

Debbie Marriot, Salutatorian, remembers the past years with a good friend.



Valedictorian, Chris Grimes, addresses the class of 1986 and congratulates them on their achievements.

June first was the day that 216 seniors have looked forward to. On this day, the seventeenth graduating class of Pendleton Heights turned the tassels. This was a time of remembering past years and of looking forward to what lies ahead.

Senior class sponsors were Mrs. Atkins and Mr. Stephenson. Class President was Erick Schmitz and presiding as Vice President was Todd Steele. Secretary was Christy Gasparovic and serving as Treasurer was Melanie Creel.

At left: The candlelight ceremony was complimented by an emotional prayer for the future of the class of 1986.

With tears in their eyes, these seniors turn their tassels and are officially announced as the class of 1986.

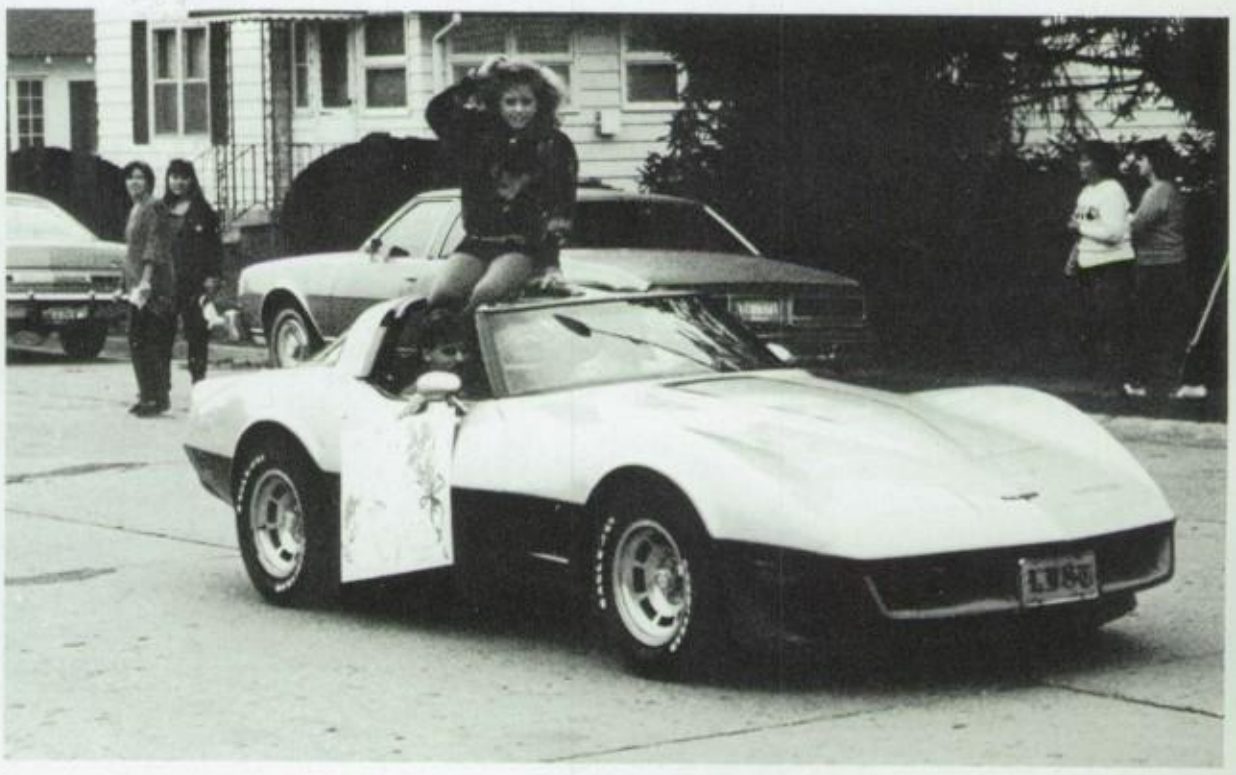
HOMECOMING 1986

Becky Opperman and Amy Delp, member of Alternatives in Motion a new organization at PHHS, throw candy to the anxious crowd.

Varsity cheerleaders Kerrie Underwood, Lori Byer, Valerie Crandall, Jolie Skinner, and Judy James parade through the homecoming festivities in a rather unusual way with a little help from some friends.

Who's number 1? The Arabian volleyball team will tell you who ... THEY ARE!

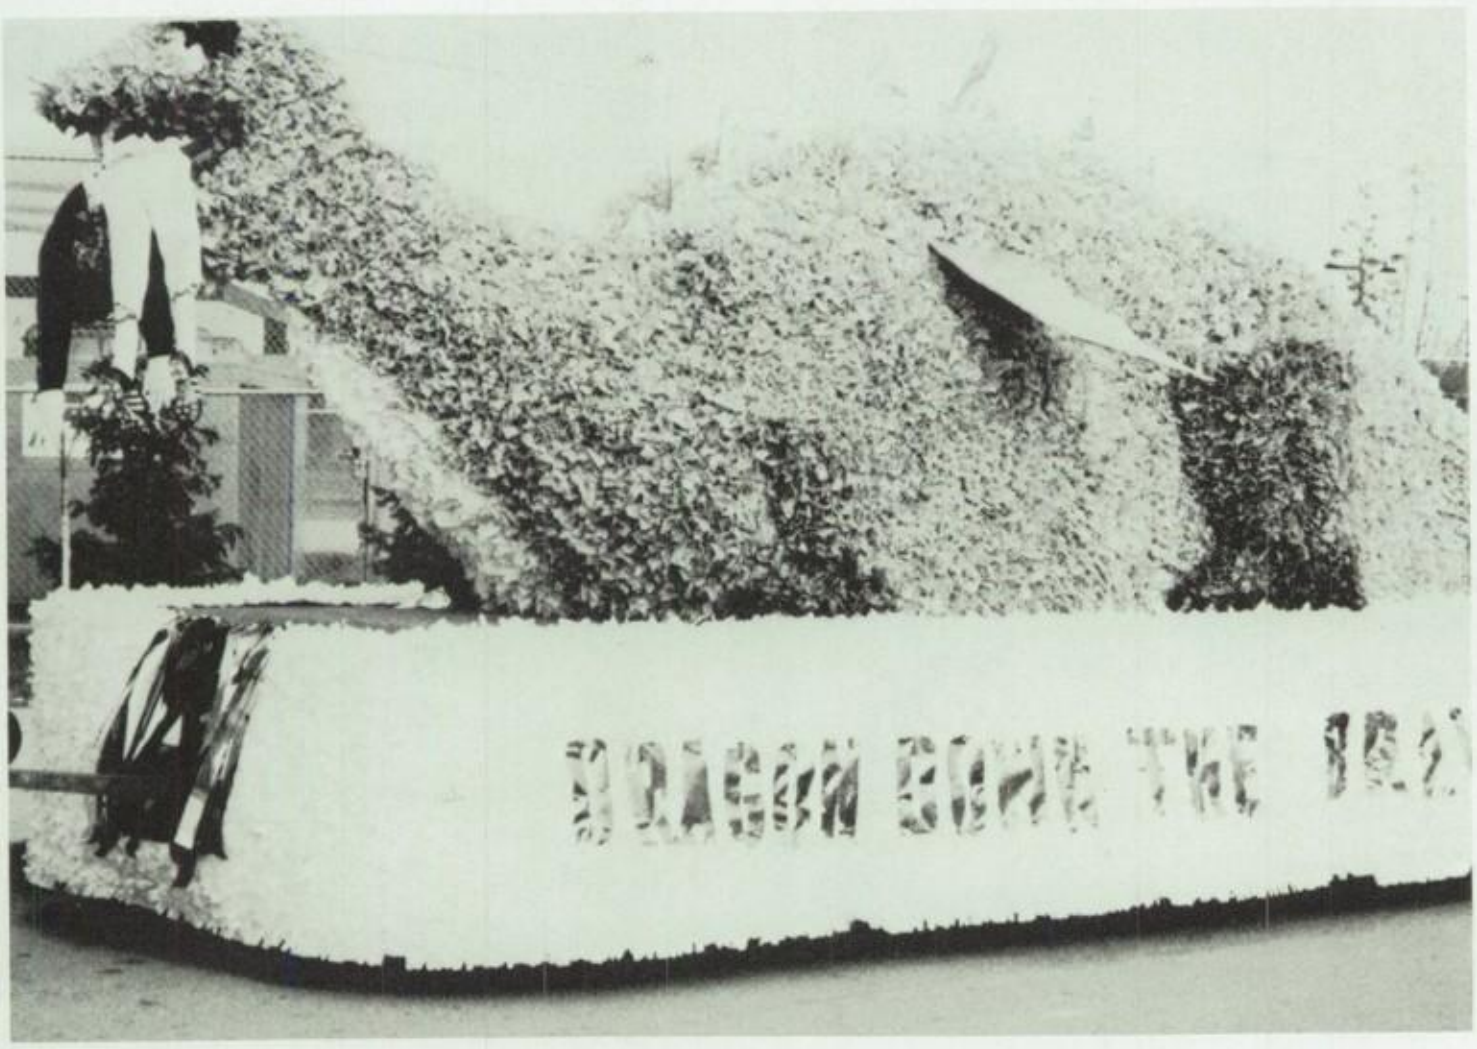


Kellie Morgan, after being crowned homecoming queen, smiles to the crowd and attempts to keep her crown from being blown away.

Freshman cheerleaders Stephanie Canaday, Tiffany Steele, Misty Poore, and Karoline Martin hang on tight and try to keep warm during the very cold and windy parade.

Students watched the weather and waited with anticipation for the announcement to determine the fate of homecoming weekend. Then the rain came along with the announcement, the homecoming parade was cancelled until the following weekend. The game went on with the Arabians losing to Mount Vernon 3-19. The parade was a huge success. There were 60 units in the parade and the sophomore won for the best float. Kellie Morgan was crowned Homecoming Queen, Kandi Skinner was the junior princess, Dion Goodwin was crowned Sophomore princess, and Holly Manifold and Dorice Baker tied for the freshman princess.

Freshman football players show their enthusiasm before the parade as they prepare for the wagon ride.



All the hard work in planning resulted in a win for the Sophomore class disrupting a 3 year winning streak for the class of 1987.

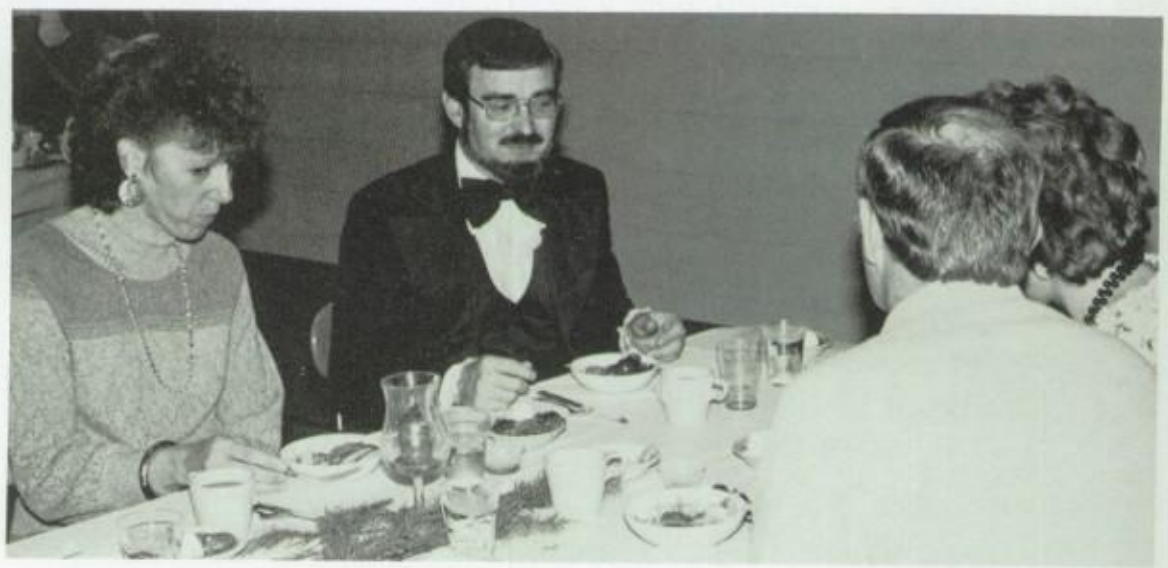
Christmas Melodies with the Pendletones

The Pendletones, again, made the 1986-87 Christmas Feast nothing less than spectacular. With the many enjoyable acts, supper was delicious and entertaining. The evening was then topped off with tux and tails when the Pendletones sang and danced. The sound and spirit of christmas was generated when the audience customarily joined in the singing. The evening was a complete success and very entertaining.

Laura Williams, David Southgate, and Nancy Stewart are getting "Nuttin for Christmas."

Jennifer Isbell rings in the Christmas spirit with "Silver Bells."

These Pendletones, Tammy Steele, Sandy Himes, Rene Jefferis, Stacie Harrison, and Stephanie Foster all have received the measles for Christmas.



The Christmas Feast was enjoyed by many friends and relatives.

Nikki Salyer, a member of chorus, does her part to make the Christmas Feast a success.

Ryan Morris brings the spirit of Christmas closer.

The Feast program was complete when the Pendletones, in tux and tails and evening gowns, presented classical arrangements to hymns and carols.

New conductor and director of the Pendletones, Mr. Harvey Chiles, is multi-talented with many skills in the performing arts.

On Saturday, December 13, 1986, the main hall was filled with evergreens and poinsettias for the annual Sunshine Society Christmas Dance. This year's queen, Jennifer Weaver, was escorted by Jeff Snodgrass. She looked exquisite in a blue lace dress. The other candidates were Lori Byer, Jill Gasparovic, Tracy Hodge, and Ivy Snider. The students and faculty members were entertained by D.J. John Hartley.

Are these people having fun or what!

CHRISTMAS IN THE PARK

Slow dances are the most popular of the evening. Brad Beerbower hopes this one will last forever.

1986 Christmas Dance Queen Jennifer Weaver

On October 18, the Pendletones, Choral Ensemble, and Concert Choir, presented the musical, Lullaby of Broadway. Lullaby was a mixture of eight famous Broadway shows. From the plights of John Adams in "1776", to the seriousness of getting a show on Broadway in "A Chorus Line", all scenes were well represented.

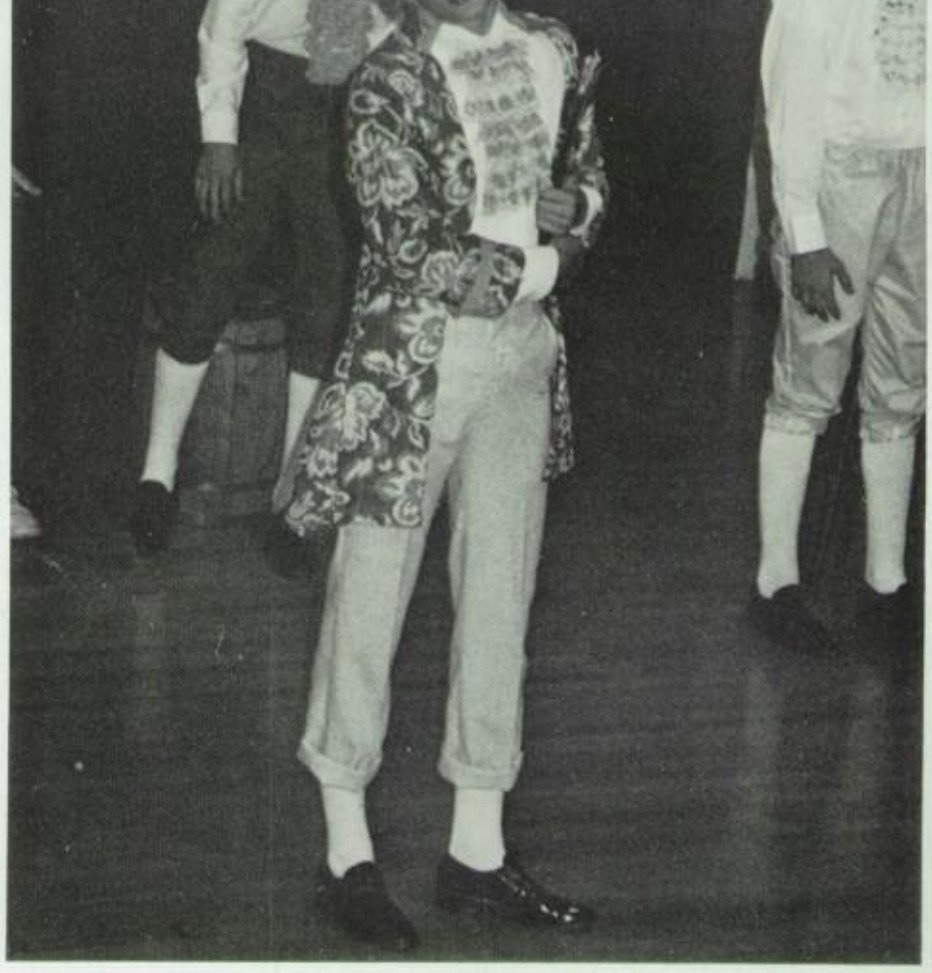
All the choral department members participated in the scenes from the musical, "Hair".

The new select ensemble, Added Attraction, which was selected from the Pendletones, presented "Cats", the story of cats and their human like personalities.

The eight voice ensemble, Added Attraction, perform McCavity's a Mystery Cat, in the fall musical, Lullaby of Broadway.

LULLABY OF BROADWAY

Tammie Steele would like a man to nibble on her ear, as she portrays Miss Hannigan in the scene from "Annie".



Robert Goodwin, as John Adams, is going mad trying to find someone to write the Declaration of Independence for him in "1776".

The cast of Lullaby of Broadway: the Pendletones, Choral Ensemble, Concert Choir, and director, Harvey Chiles.

Some of the girls in Pendletones express their feeling that it's a Hard Knock Life.

Oklahoma was also spotlighted in the show. Solos were sung to "Oh What a Beautiful Morning", "Surrey With the Fringe On Top", and "People Will Think We're In Love".

All the girls in the Pendletones performed songs from the musical "Annie".

Scenes from the musical "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" were also presented.

The Choral department is under the direction of Mr. Harvey Chiles. When asked how he felt about the performance and performers as a whole, he replied "I was very pleased. I felt the students handled themselves in a professional manner. I am excited about their potential."

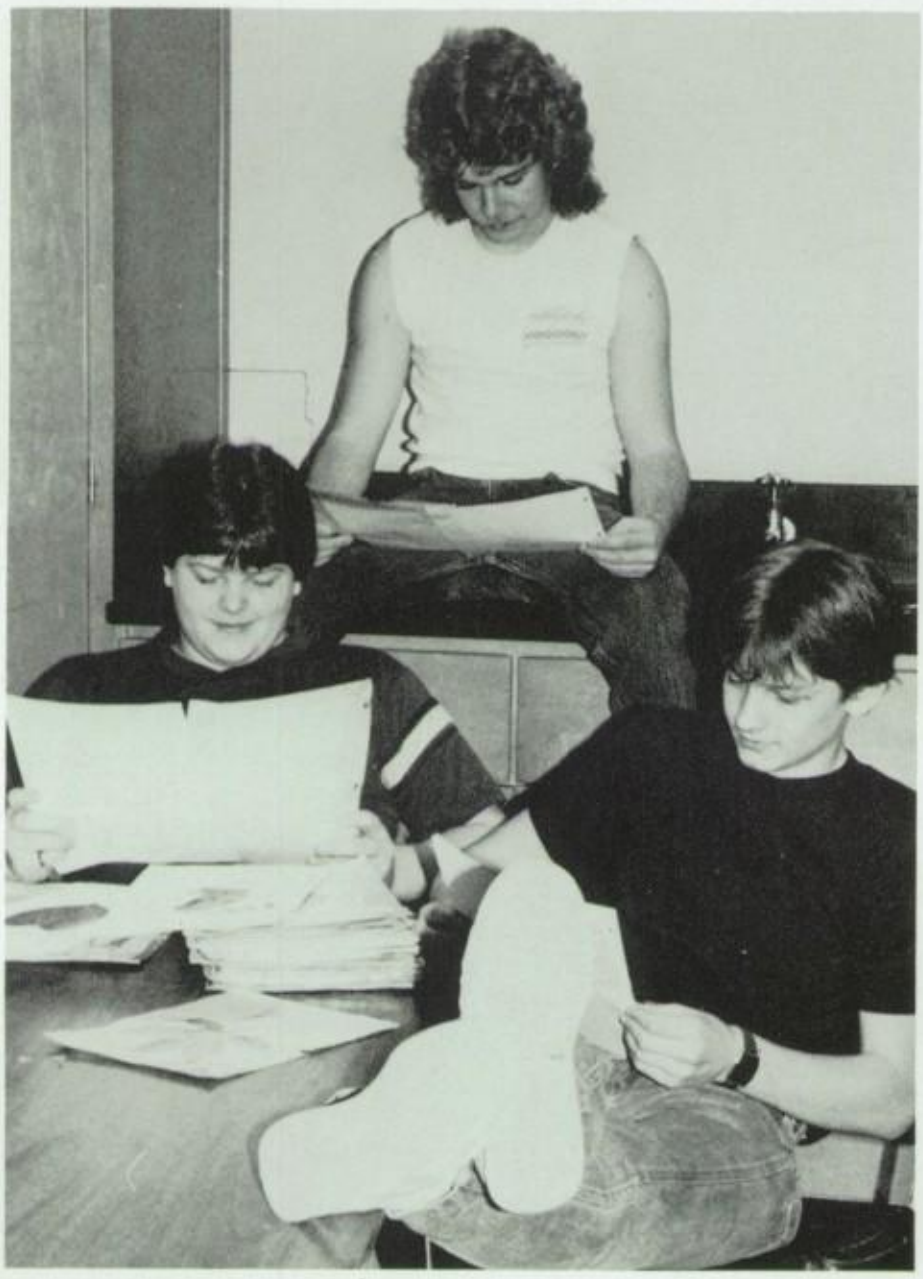
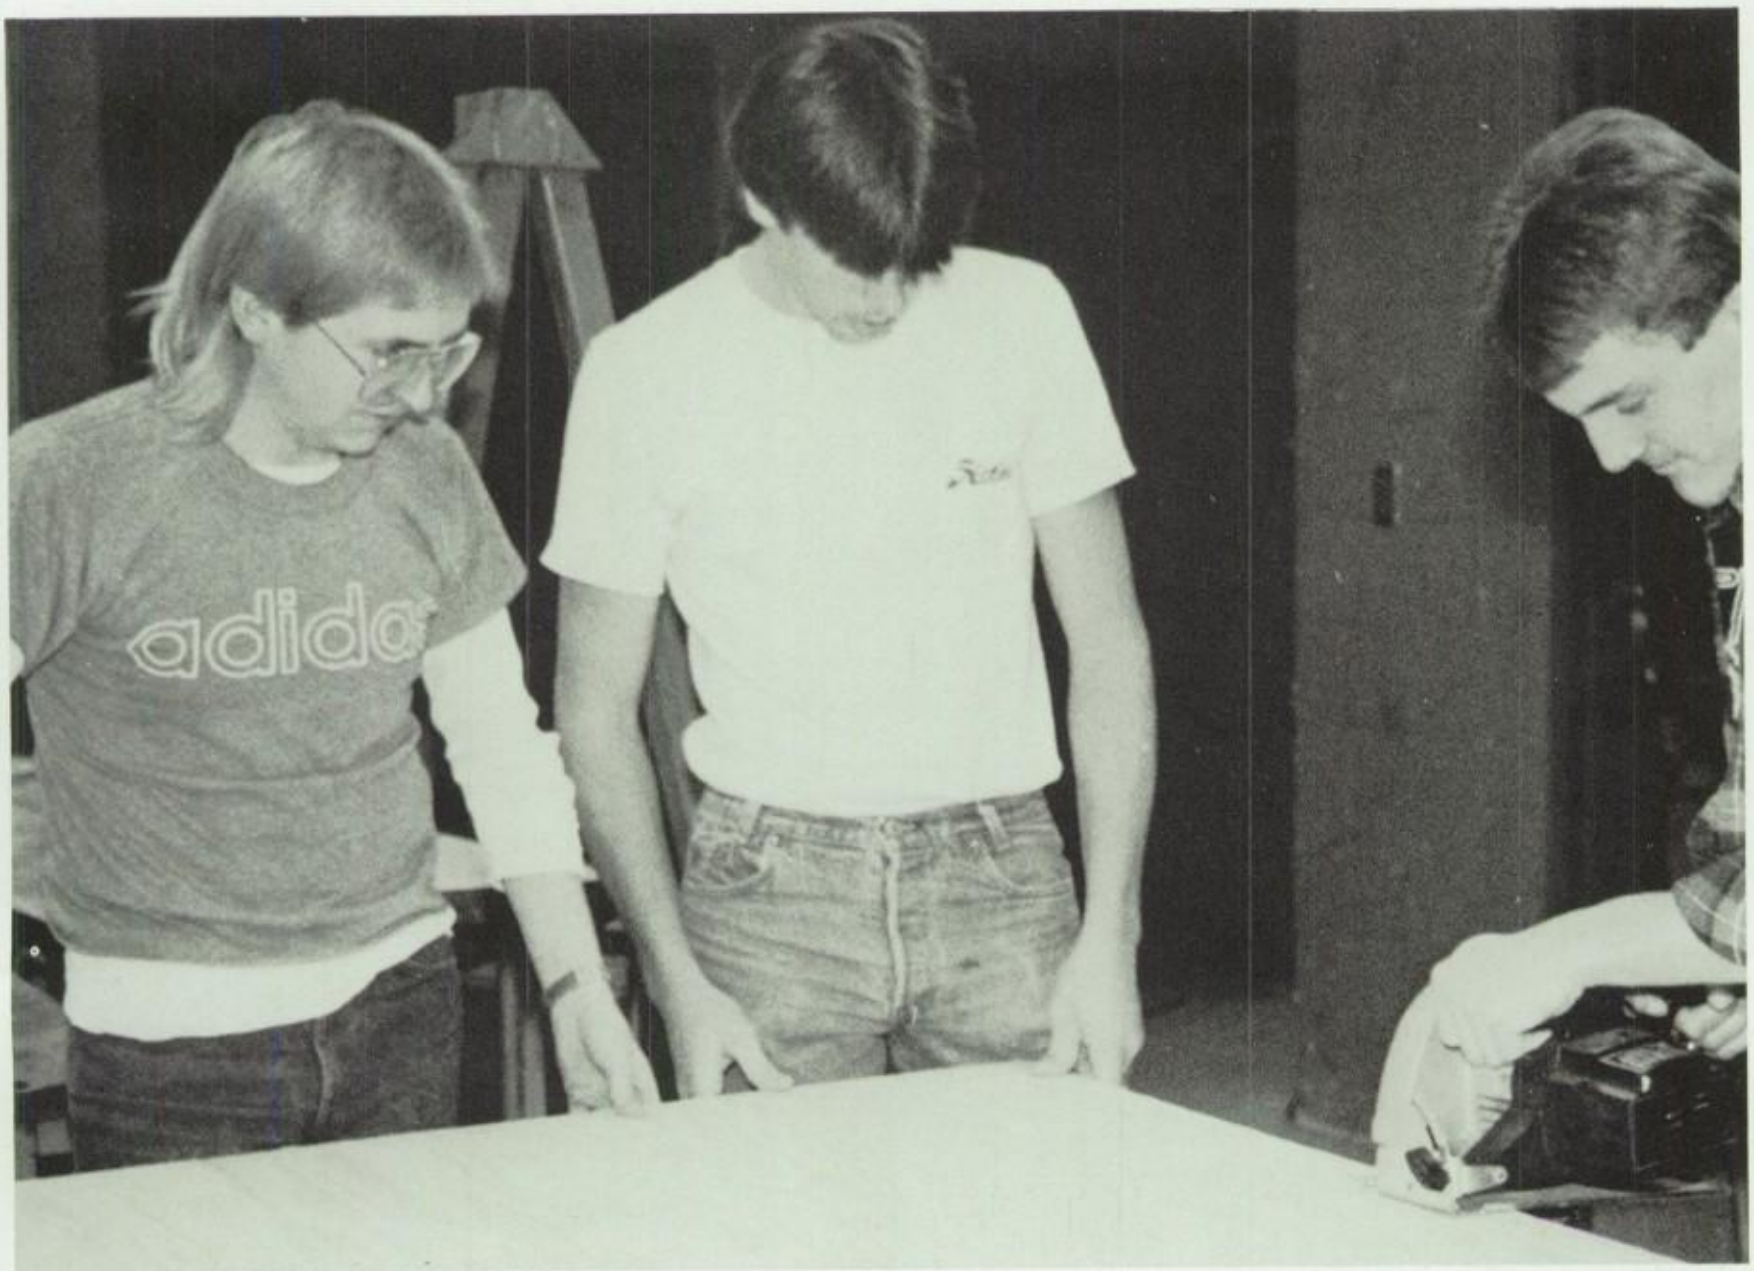
Take the Vo-Ag Challenge



Tom Bryant, Stan Michael, and Jeffrey Hallowell, try to decide what plants to put in the greenhouse.

A job well-done by Larry Marshall, Barry French, and Stan Michael, as they finish putting up a fan motor in the greenhouse.



Tony Coplin, James Rodgers, and Jeff Rector, cut plywood for the bottom of the greenhouse walls.

One of the units in the horticulture classes is silkflower arranging. Here are some of the class projects.

Have you been wondering what is being built on the east end of the building? It is PHHS's very own greenhouse. The greenhouse is being built by the PH maintenance people, the horticulture students, and some community volunteers. The new building is 20 by 48 feet and is thermostatically controlled. The building will house everything from vegetables to all kinds of plants. These plants will help beautify the school corporation grounds. It is hoped the greenhouse will be finished by March 1.

Art students again displayed high creativity in their work throughout the year. Many honors were received by their art and Art Club students. With the creation of Connections, a program combining English and art, art has become an English elective credit. Most students agree art is an enjoyable class.

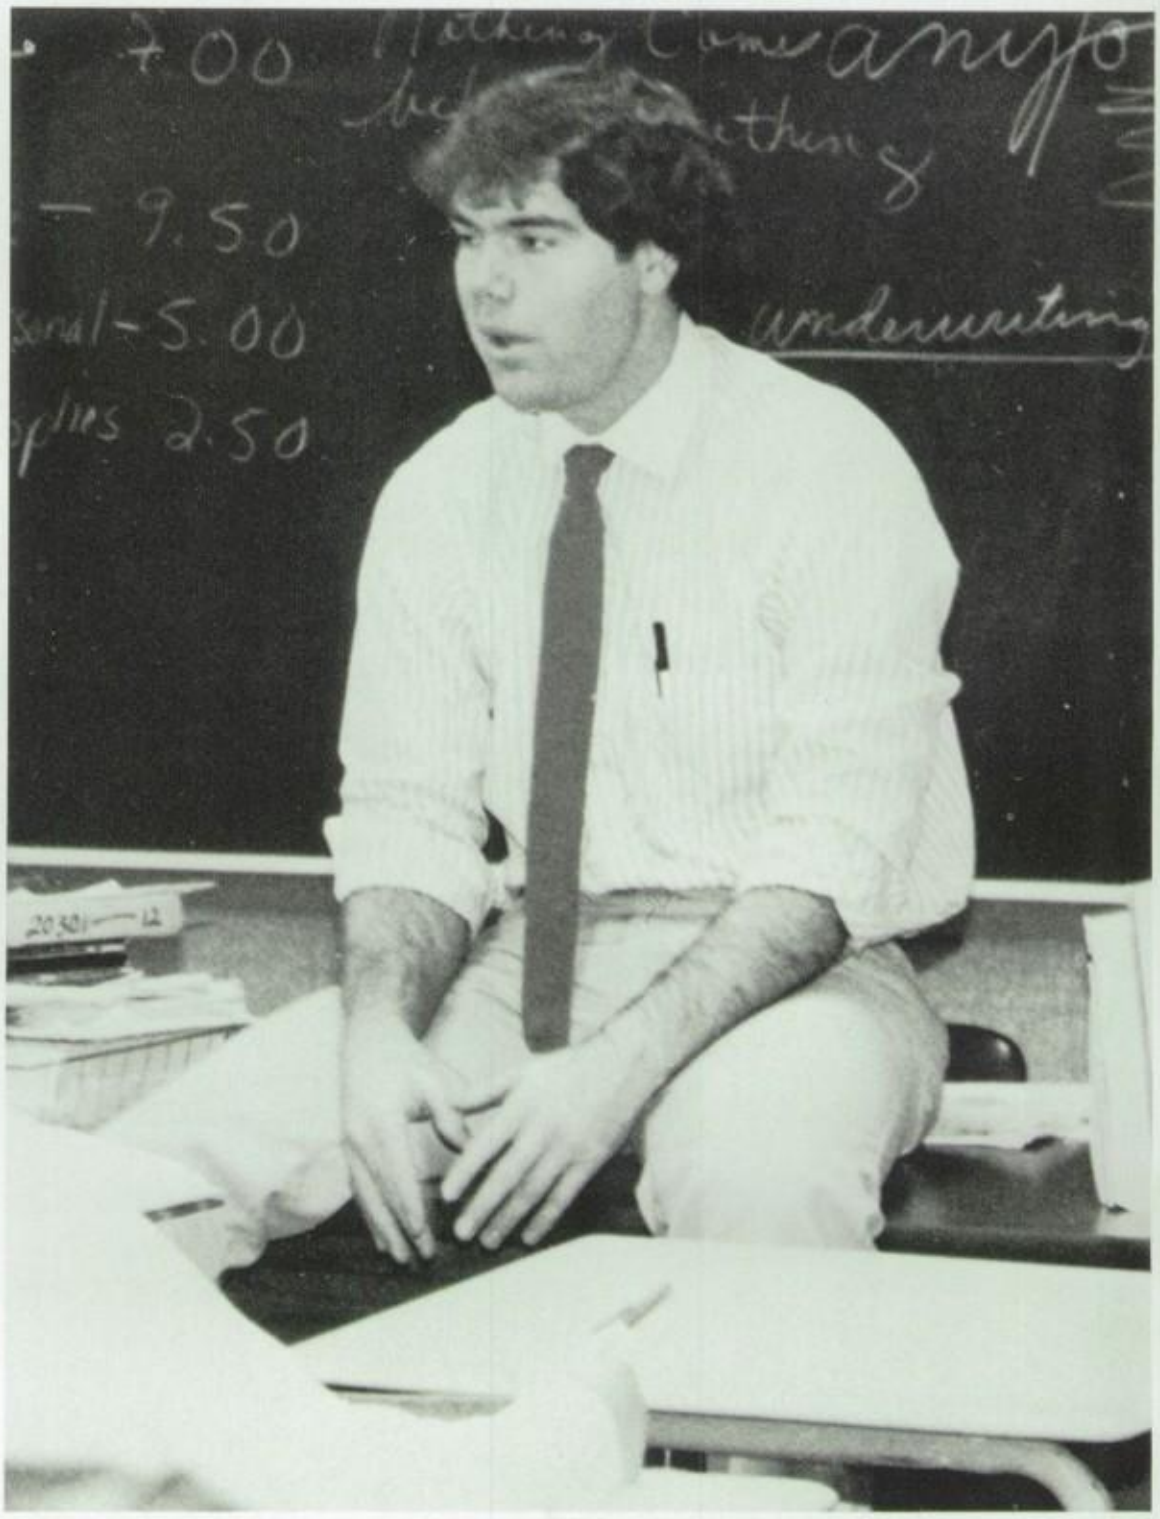
Business Students Strive for Perfection

Many advancements have been made throughout the past few years in technology. These advancements have created many changes in the business department at Pendleton Heights. These changes include new typewriters with memory capabilities, computers, and data processors. Two new classes were added to the curriculum this year. Business Computer Applications shows students how to use software with Apple Computers. Business Principles and Management teaches students the basics about business administration.

Jenny Heath struggles to get her homework done before the bell rings.

Gina Brown does her assignment on the IBM Personal Computer in Office Procedures.



Mr. Cloud comfortably lectures to his General Business class.

Alicia Rogers listens attentively to Miss Gaddis' explanation.

Holly Manifold, Darla Baker, and Cindy Fowler discuss the set-up for a manuscript in Keyboarding.

The English curriculum at PHHS is widely diversified. During the freshman and sophomore years, students review the basics of English and Literature. Also as freshmen, students read ROMEO AND JULIET and GREAT EXPECTATIONS; as sophomores, students read JULIUS CAESAR and THE SCARLET LETTER or SILAS MARNER. As they progress, more electives become available to them.

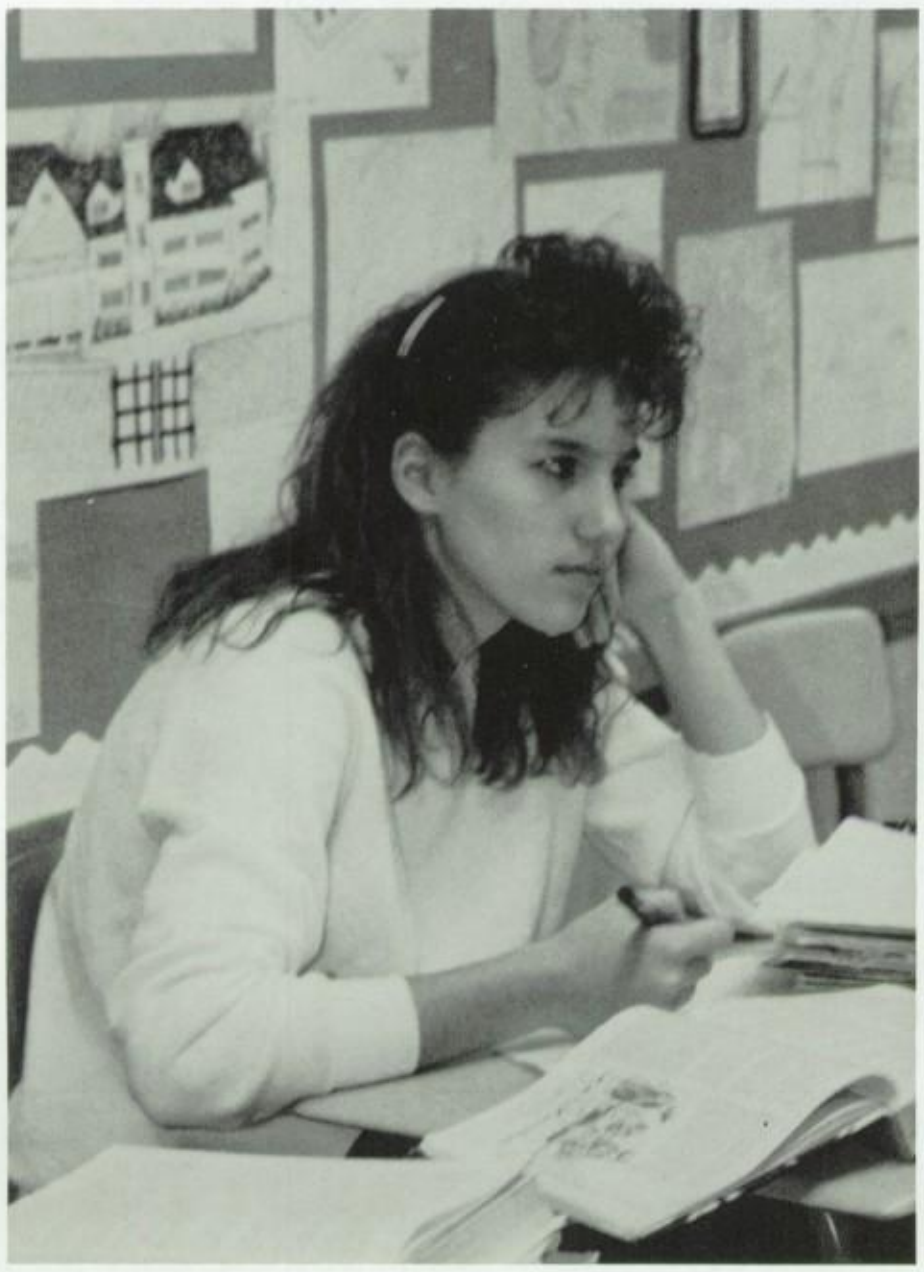
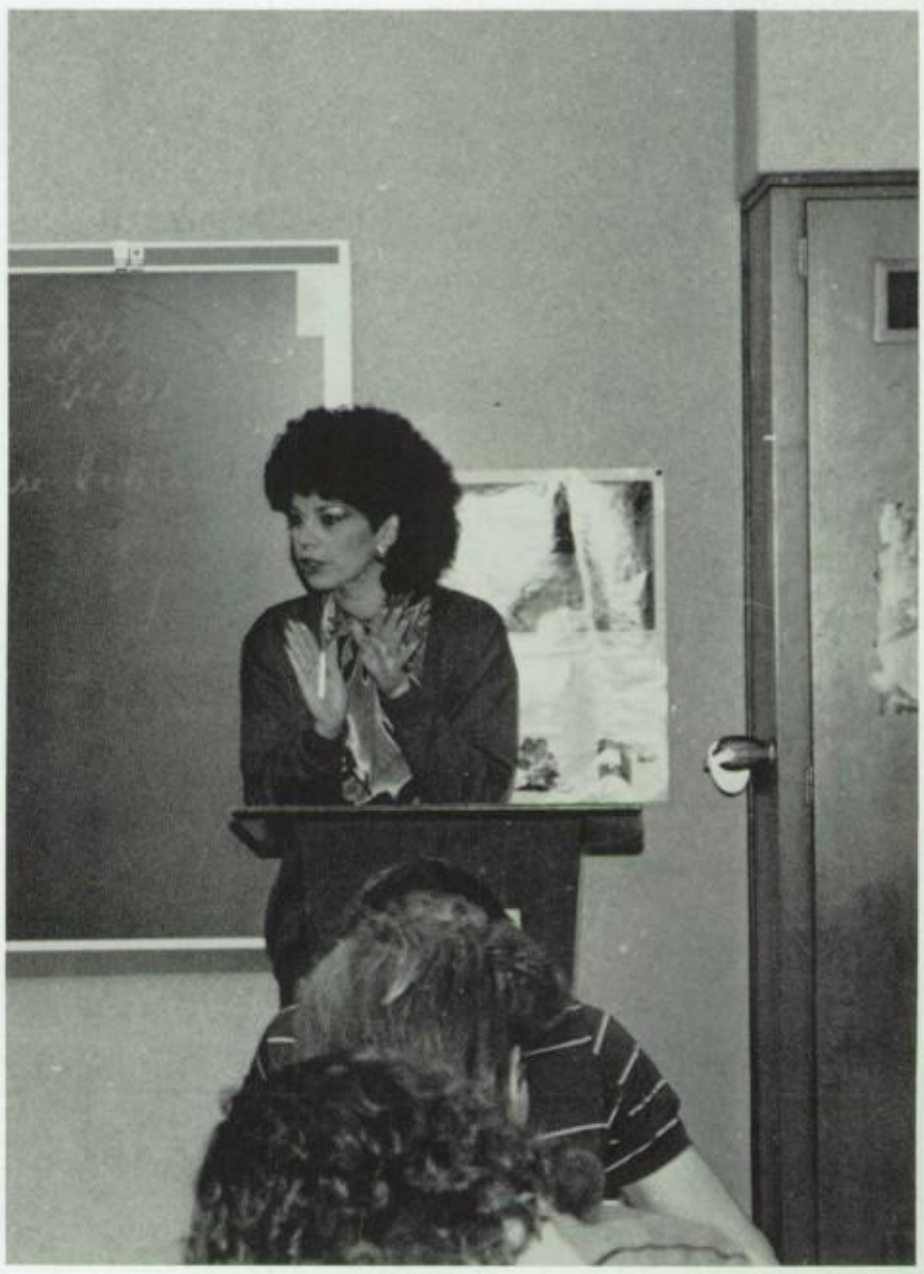
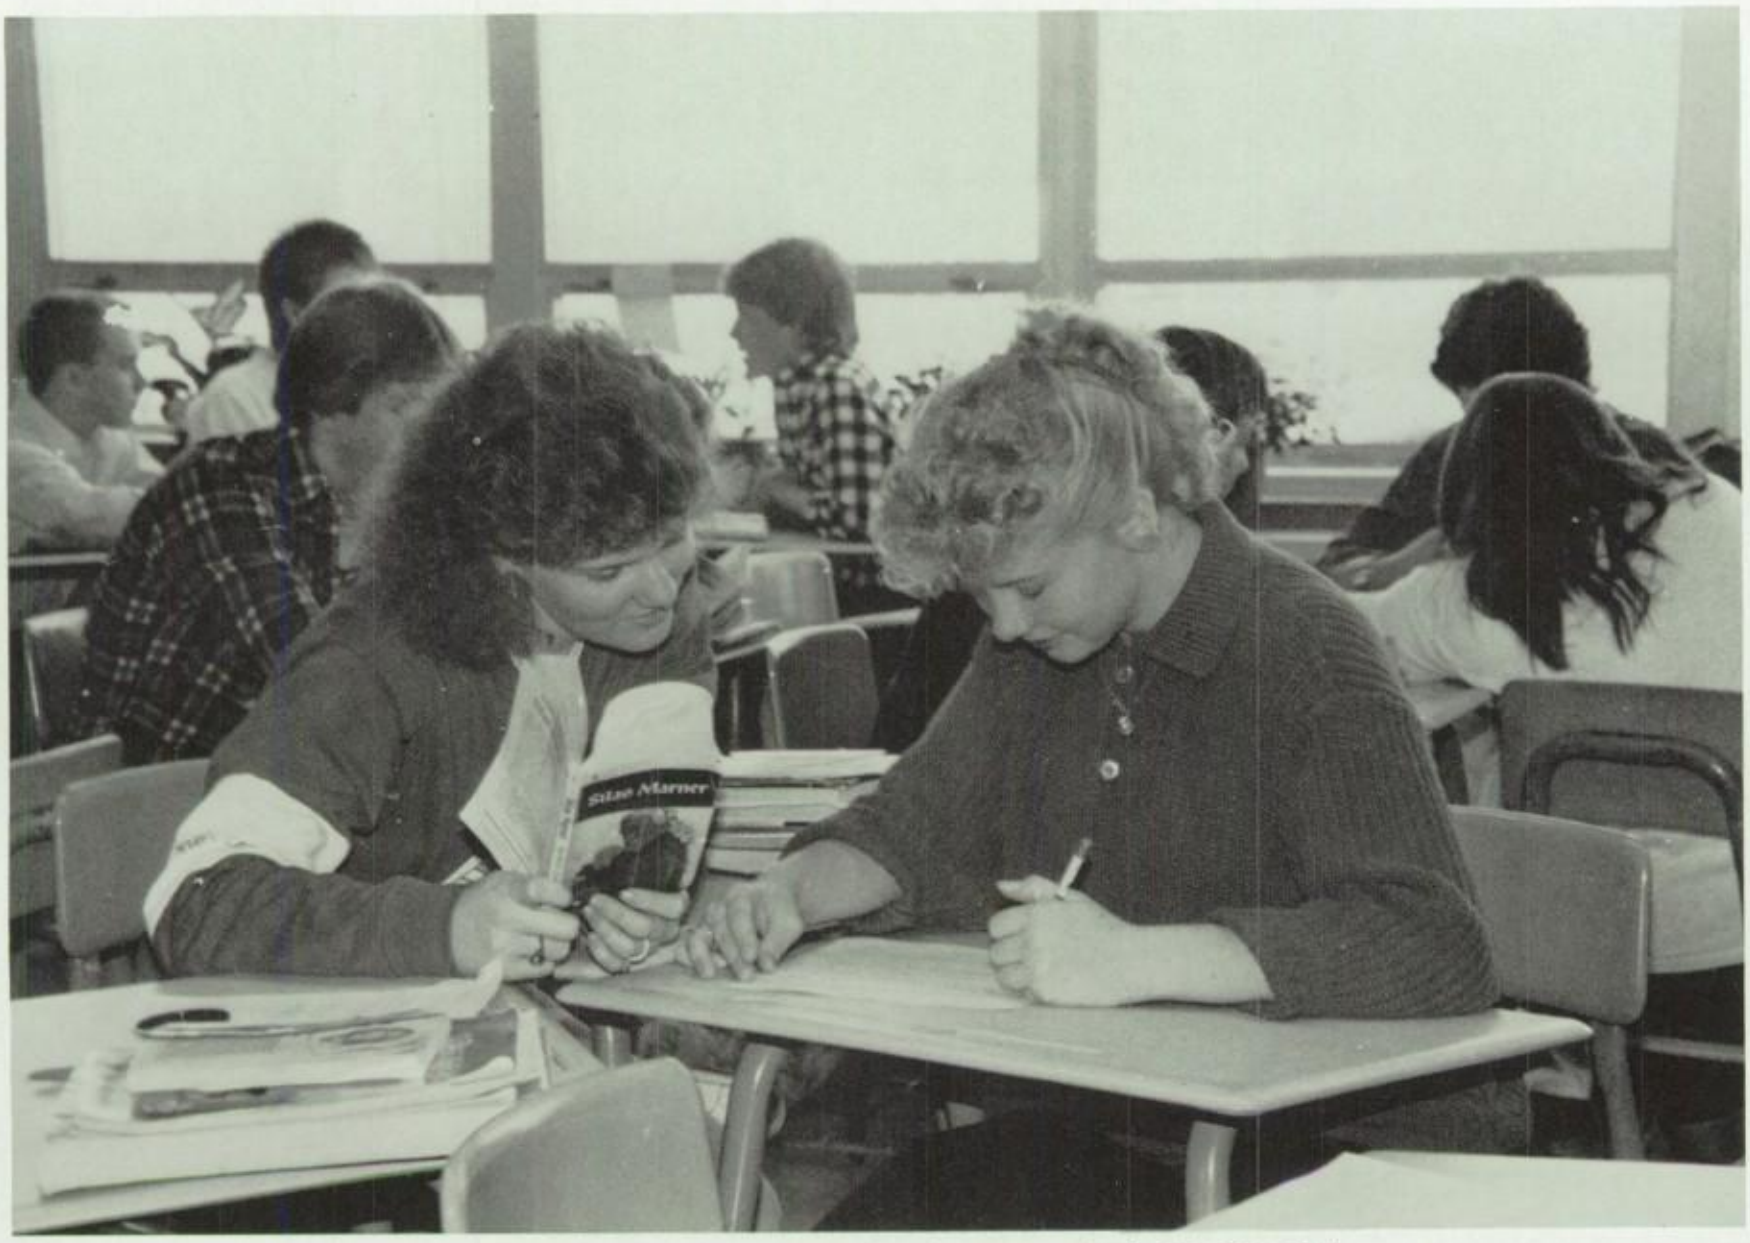
English for Everyone



Freshman Lori Kirby wonders when her English class will be over.



Mrs. Sporinsky re-iterates "why you should not assume."



Cindy Huey and Beth Shuman work diligently on their group project for SILAS MARNER.

One of the classics read by sophomore English classes is SILAS MARNER.

Mrs. Browning smiles in amusement as the students "pack up" for the final bell.

The WEEM staff at PHHS works many long, hard hours before and after school. They broadcast many athletic and special events for the corporation.

WRITING WITH STYLE!

Jody Nescola assists Ivy Snider in finishing her article.

Writing with style and always striving to improve are goals of all members of the Hoofprint staff.

At the end of every month, the Hoofprint is issued to all students and faculty at PHHS.

The Hoofprint staff, Mrs. Browning, advisor, Mr. King, printing teacher, and Mr. Wagner, photography advisor are very busy and work long hours to be sure the paper comes out on time.

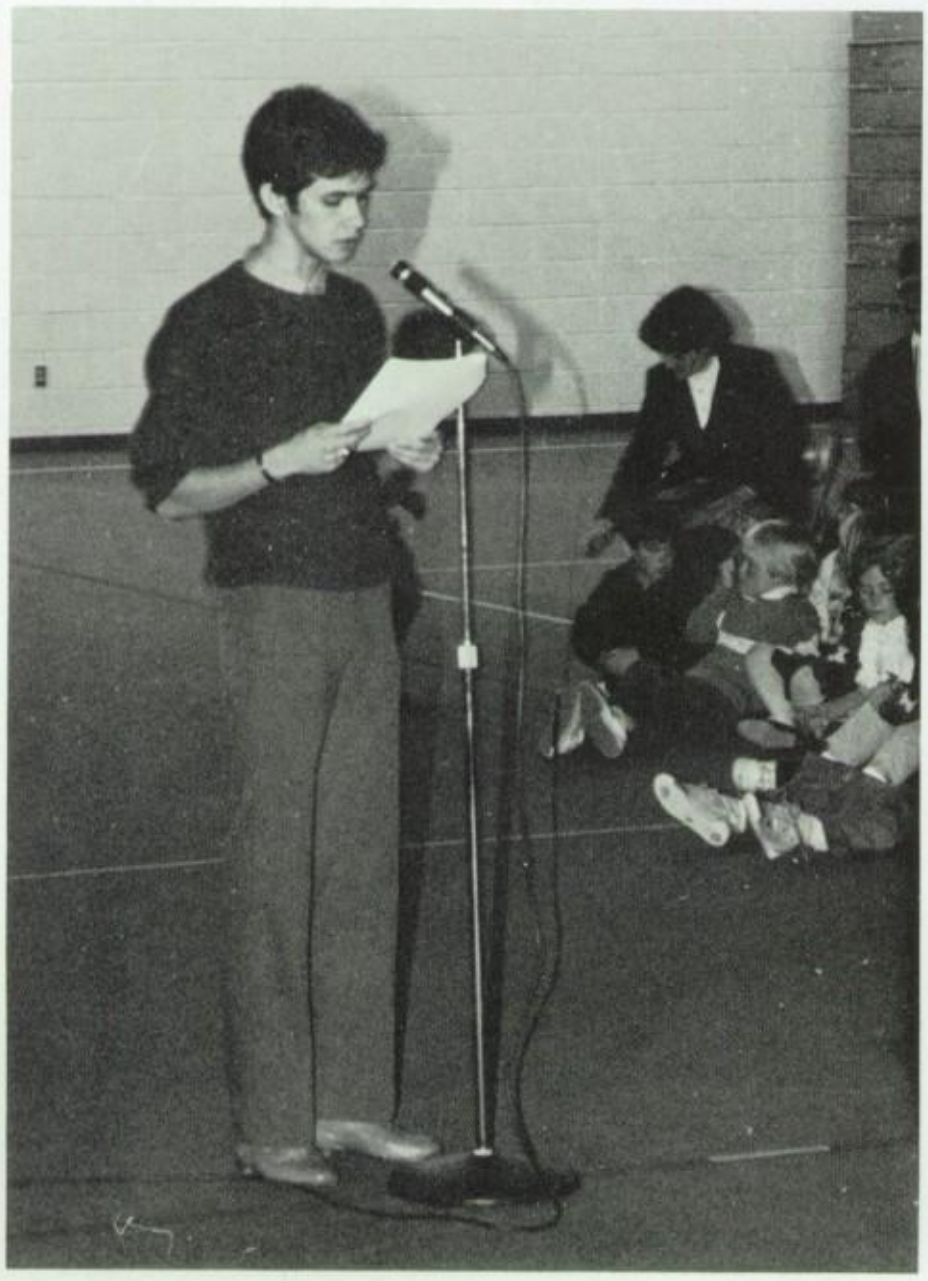
During his break on underclass pictures day, Matt Shaffer daydreams.

The 1987 Scimitar staff has worked diligently to give the best yearbook possible to Pendleton Heights. The photographers take and develop photos, and send them to other staff members who caption the pictures and design a layout. Then, the layouts are sent into the company where they are processed. Proofs are sent back to the staff, where they are checked and corrected, and then sent back to the company. The company, after receiving every page, processes the book in mass quantities. We hope you enjoy your 1987 Scimitar.

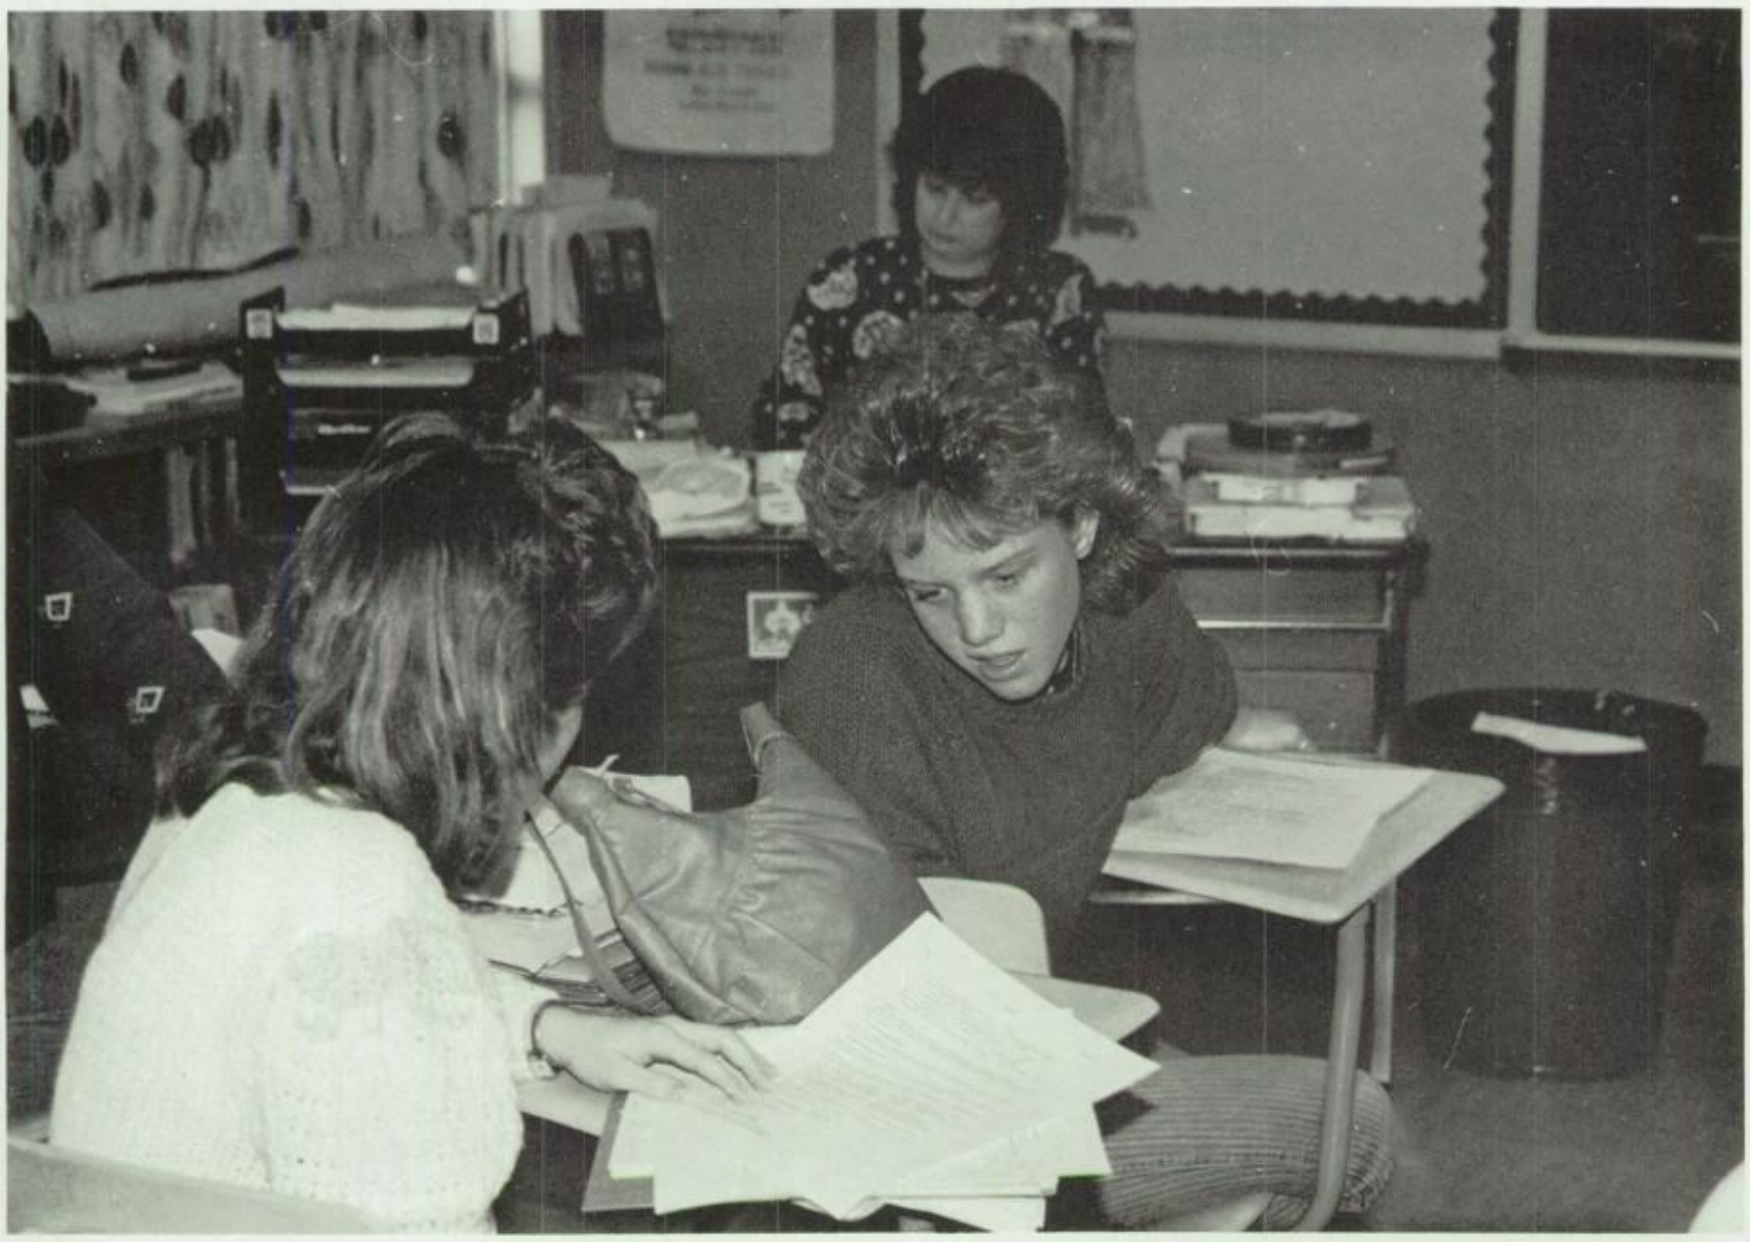
German II students concentrate intensely on new vocabulary words.

Say Hello to a Foreign Language



Lance Reger, German Student, enlightens elementary children in an enchanting story.

Herr Thompson is musically inclined, making German II enjoyable to learn.



Nicci James confers with a friend on the answers to a homework assignment for Spanish Class.

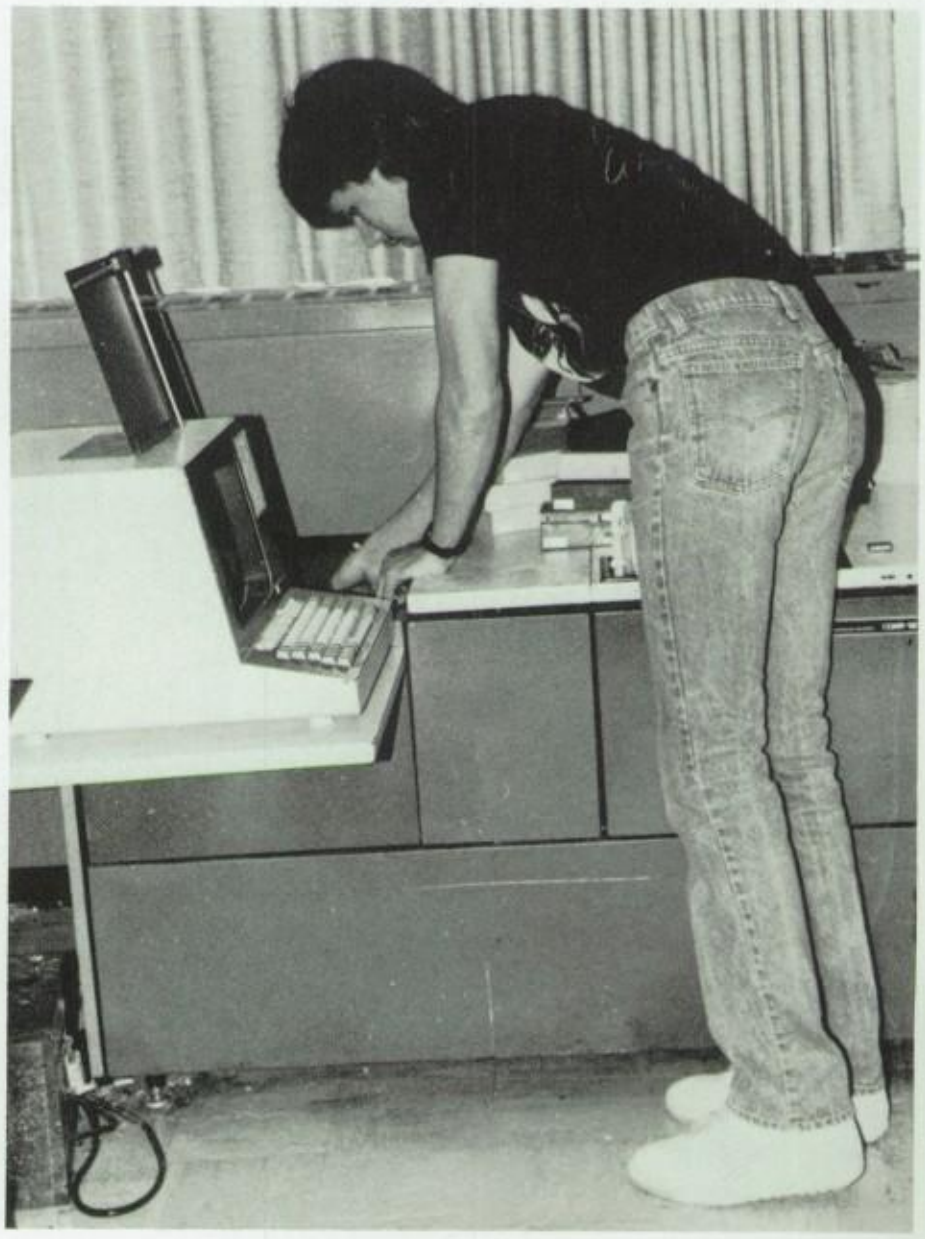
German IV has had an exciting year with trips to the elementary. French Club also brought back French Day. Both were successes and hopefully French Day will become a tradition here at Pendleton Heights. Spanish club has sold candy as a fund raiser and planned many activities for the year.

Lisa Fouse sells "scrumpdillyicious" French pastries to hungry students during lunch mods on French Day.

Dale Robinson takes a moment at the beginning of class to finish an assignment.

Lifetime Skills Through Industrial Arts

One of the last jobs of the day for Shawn Moore is sweeping up.



Chad Klakamp sets up the computer for work in shop class.

Mr. Johnson and students work on a lawn mower motor.

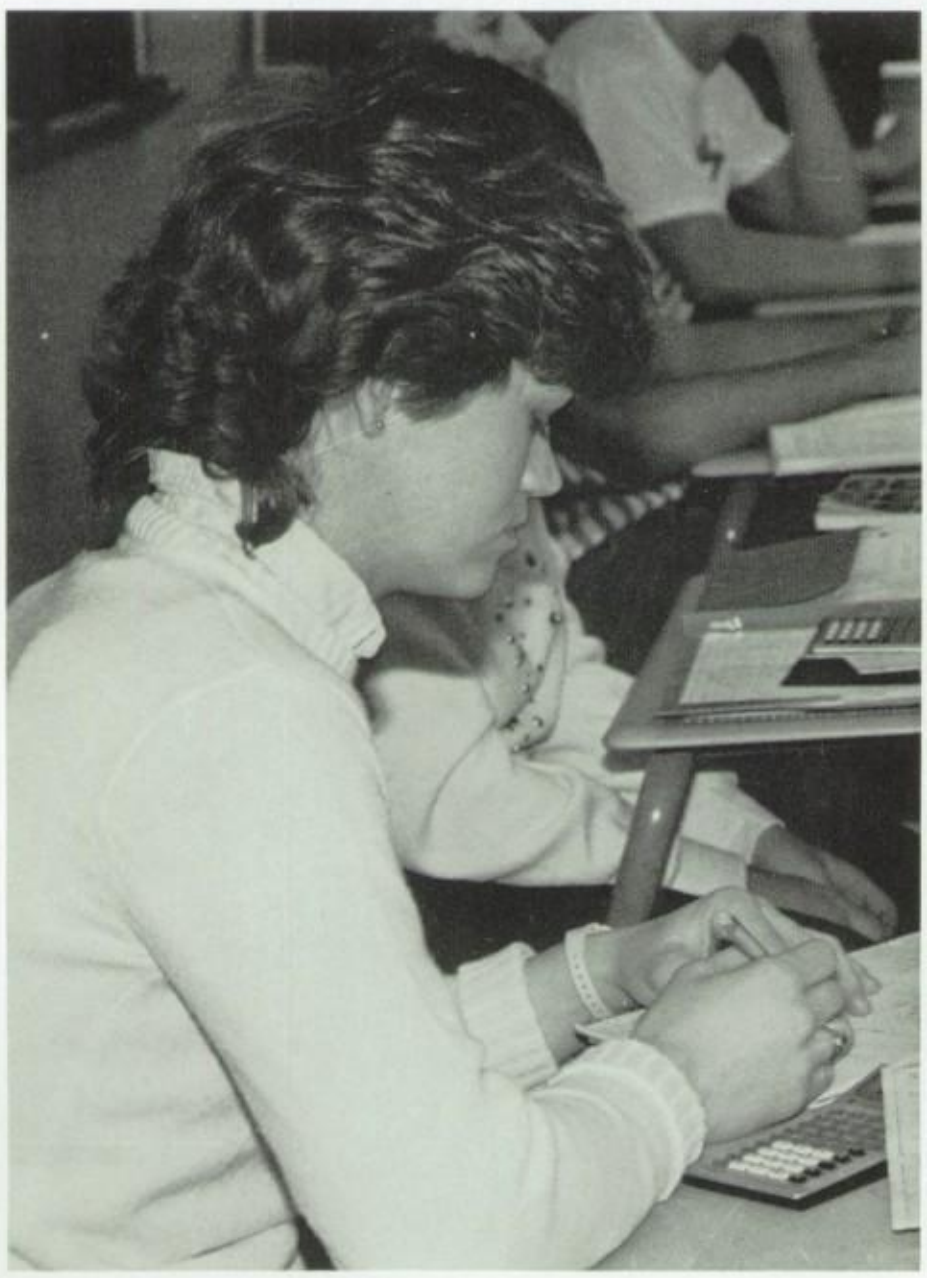
Due to the increased number of required classes, industrial arts class enrollments have been declining. This in unfortunate, because a large number of highly educated students leave school each year with no experience in activities that they will be involved in for the rest of their lives. Most have no experience repairing their automobiles, lawn mowers, or most commonly used electrical appliances. The industrial arts classes provide experience in all of these areas and definitely benefit many students.

Bill Wiley flashes the camera a cool smile.

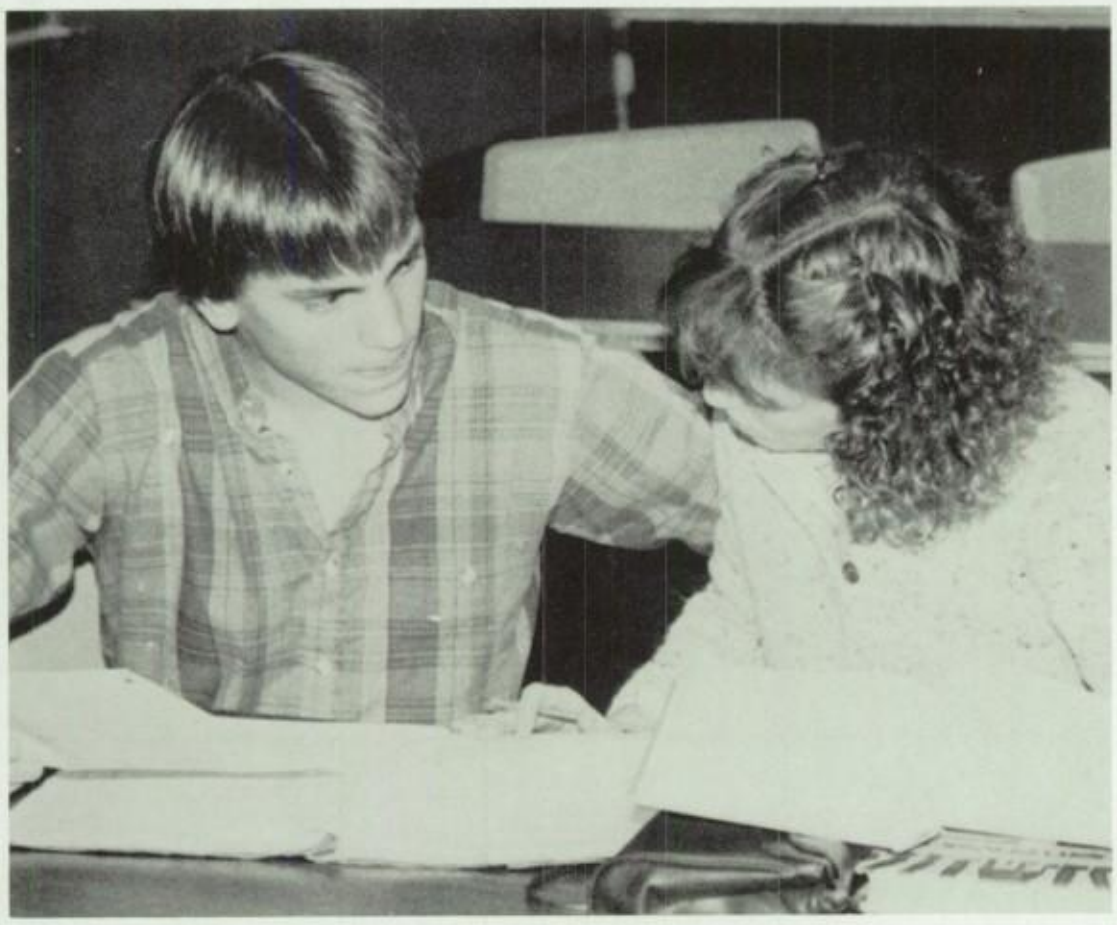
In Math "It Figures"



Carrie Bradley calculates some quick answers in trigonometry.

Mr. Rhoades watches over his students during study time.

Jennifer Morgan checks a homework question with a friend.



Robert Stone helps friend, Jane Caughlan, with an assignment before class.

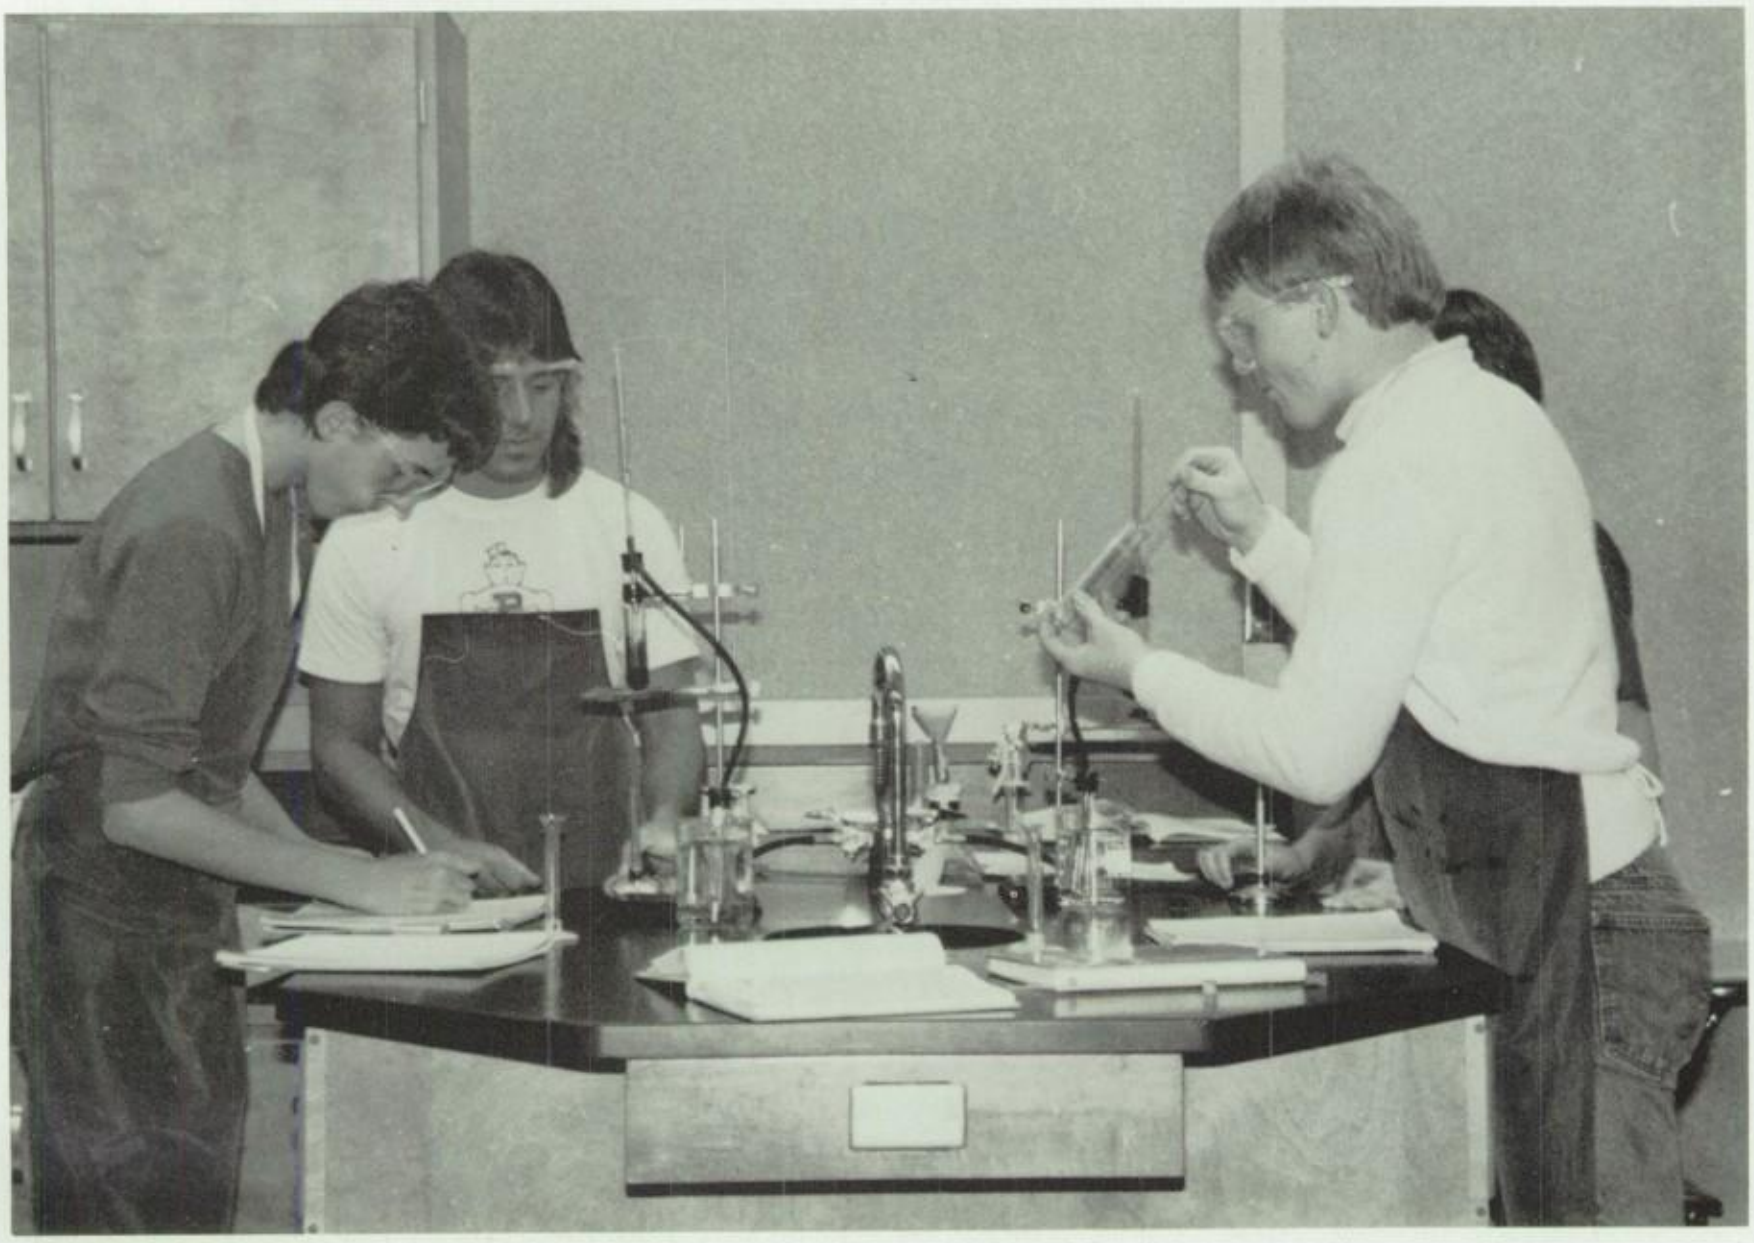
The state has set new mathematic requirements for its graduating students. Having a strong math department helps prepare us for these challenges. Our teachers are constantly expanding their knowledge of the field. Many successful students are founded by a secure math background.

In Chemistry I, Jennifer Nivens, Kerrie Kendall and Darrin Branch check the scales.

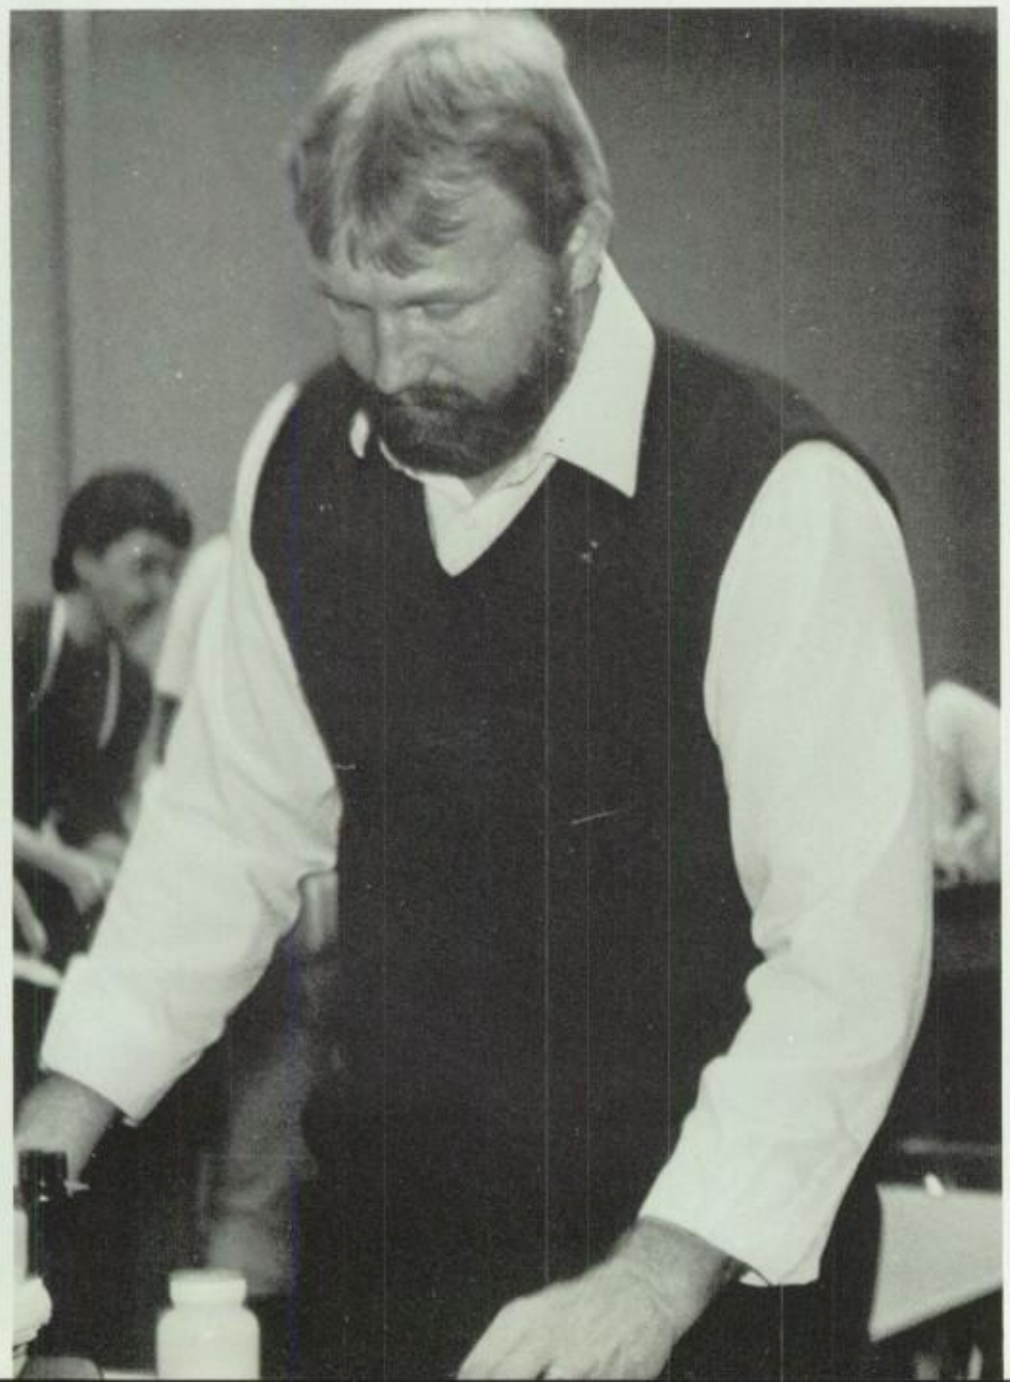
The Amazing World of Science

"Bombs away," as Mike Scott releases his egg drop experiment.

Shelly Jacobs is taking temperature readings to find the boiling point of this substance.



All work and no play, just ask this IPS lab group as they do a paper chromatography experiment.



With science requirements increasing, a new class called Introductory Physical Science, better known to students as IPS, is being offered at PHHS. This year it is taught by Mr. Medler and Mr. Trehearne.

In IPS the students do all kinds of experiments with different chemical substances. The Science Department includes other classes such as Physical Science, Biology I, Biology II, Chemistry I, Chemistry II, Physics and will be expanding next year.

Introductory Physical Science, also known as IPS, is a lab oriented class taught by Mr. Medler.

The students who take P.E. during the school year find it is sometimes a mad rush to shower, dress, blow dry hair and be to class on time.

However, most people agree it is worth it because of the fun and opportunity to be active in a variety of sports activities.

Mr. Bargfeldt and Julie Robinson demostrate reverse sit-ups to the class.

EXERCISING ARABIAN STYLE!

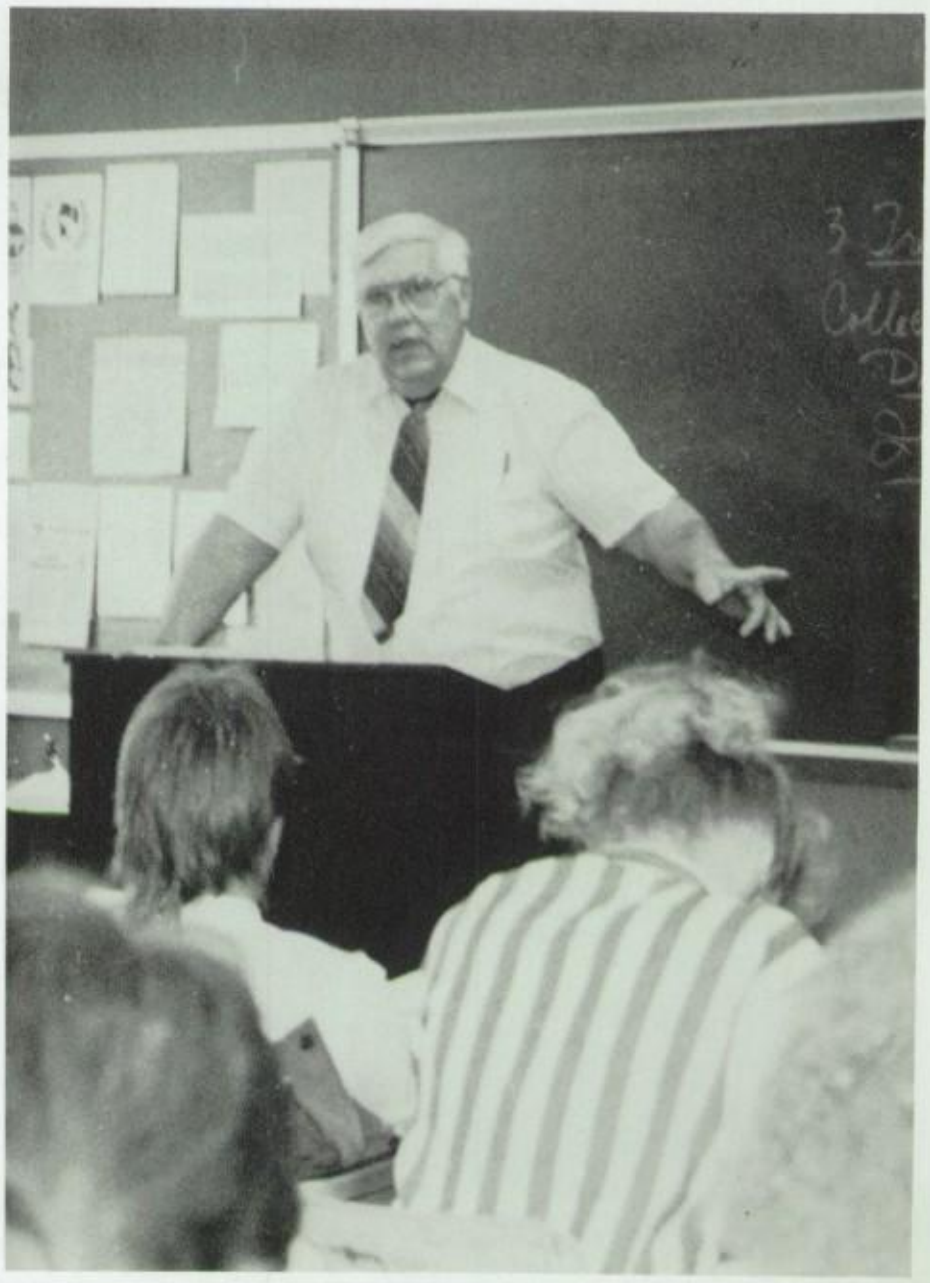
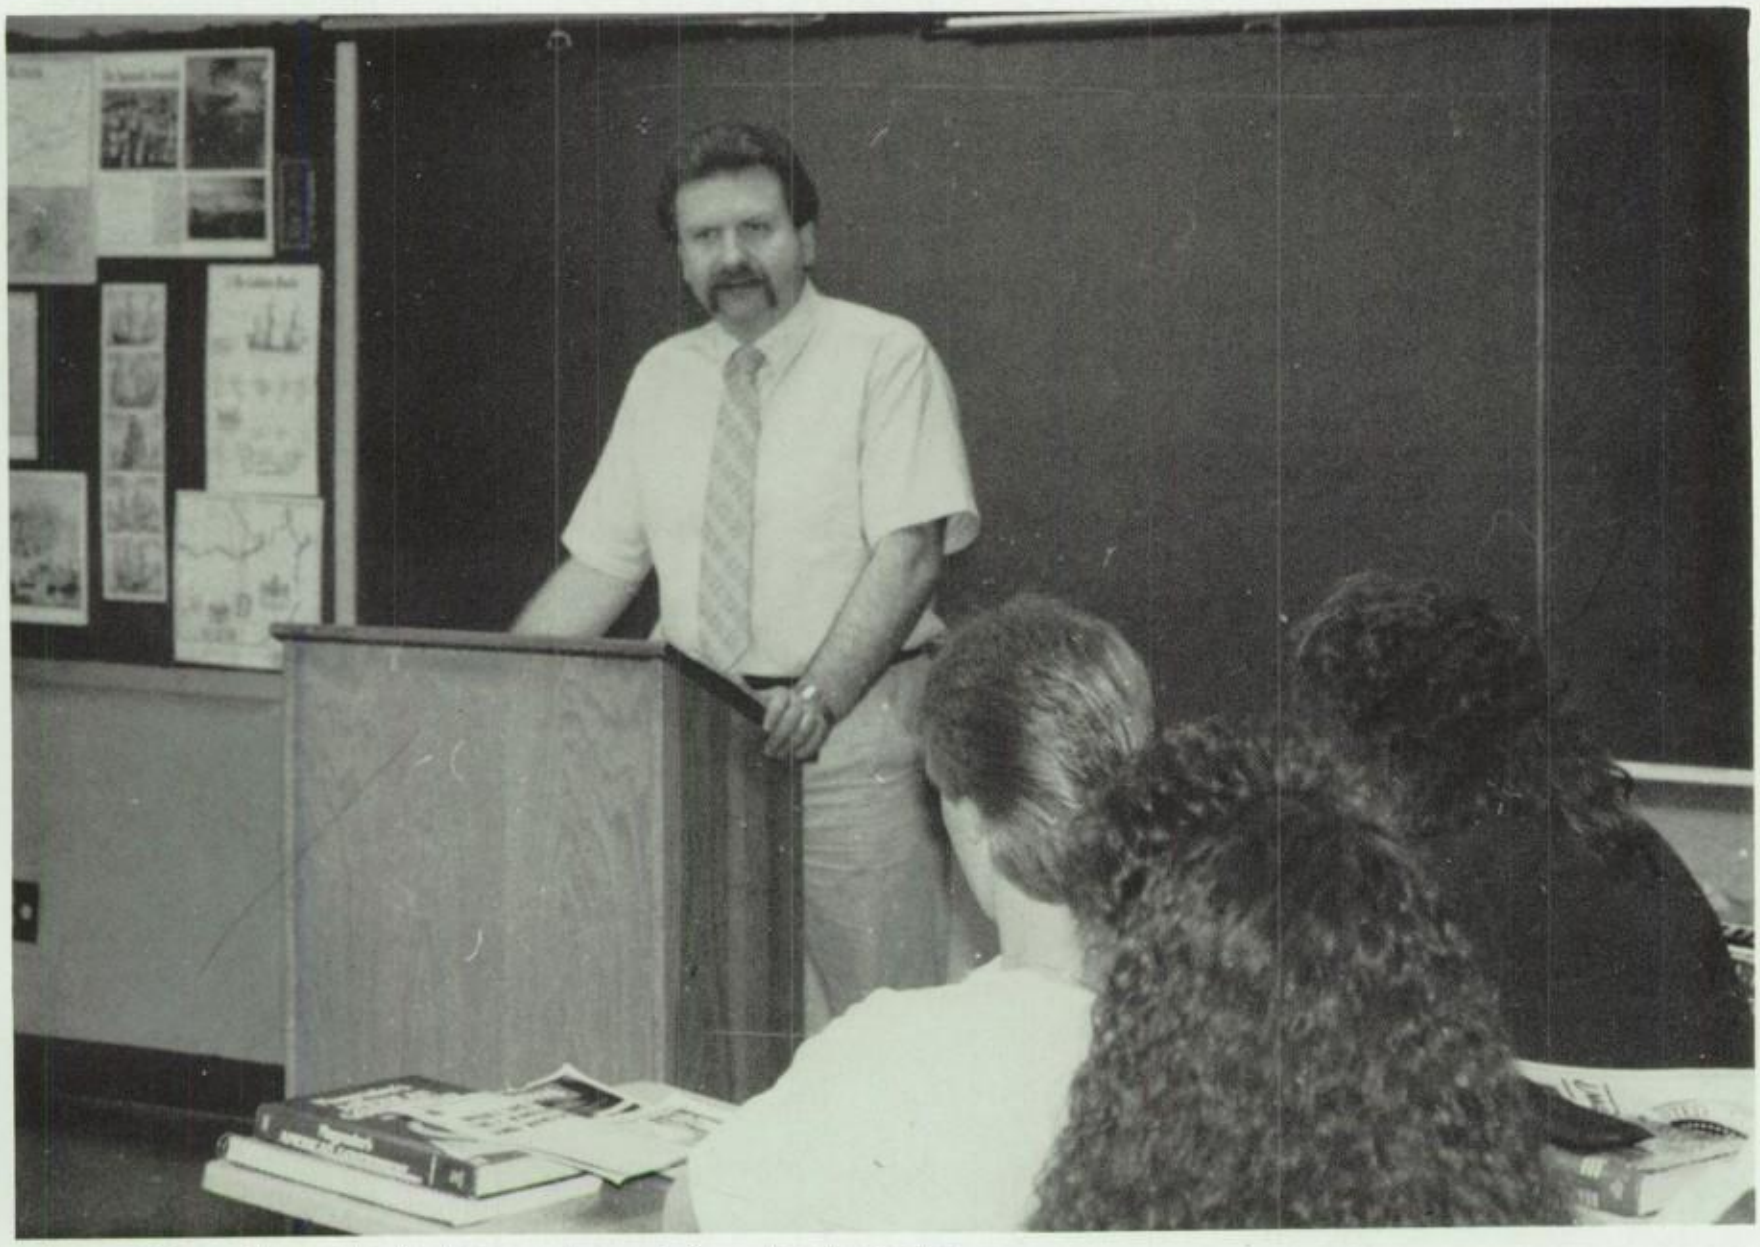
Comparing the Past and Present

When the room is warm and the lecture is long, some of us, including Vincent Morton, tend to doze off.



Principles of government, taught by Mr. Smith, is EVERYONE'S favorite class.



Mr. Tom Childress, of the social studies department, lectures during world civilization class.

Kim Townsend and Steve Boles are more interested in the camera than social studies class.

The Social Studies department offers many courses for students here at PHHS. While most sophomores and freshmen are taking courses such as World Geography, taught by Ms. Bolinger, and World Civilization, taught by Mr. Childress, the juniors are taking U.S. History taught by Mr. Wallace, and Mr. Etherington. And then as a senior you look forward to U.S. Government and Economics with Mr. Smith and Mr. Steele.

Making Music the Arabian Way

The Arabian Band has been very successful and had excellent leadership through out the year.

The Band is under the direction of Mr. Poio and Mr. Pfoser. The Arabians placed 12th at State Fair. They also participated in the ISSMA Field Show Competition and received a Division I, Superior rating at District and at Regional performances.

Seniors Barbara Haehl and Robert Stone were selected as members of the All-State Honors Band.

Band members received a total of 45 Division I, Superior awards at District and State Solo and Ensemble Contests.

The Arabian Flag Corp competed in many contests and qualified for the State Guard Competition.

Mr. Poio, directs the band to start playing at the pep rally after the bonfire.

Drum majors, Heather Stringer and Wayne Lacy show off the new uniforms the Arabian band sported this summer.

The wind ensemble perfects their performances for concert season.

The percussionists, Doug Warner, Brett Mabrey, Ed Pierce and Stephanie Spencer count rests during practice.

Vocational Education Classes

Vocational Auto mechanics is a two and half hour class in which selected students receive "hands-on" experience by directly working with automobiles. Their time is also spent in the classroom where the students learn about ten areas dealing with the parts of automobiles. Their insturctor, Mr. Mayes, is new to Pendleton Heights this year, and feels that our school is definitely high quality.

Bryan Caudill is working on the brake shoes of a car as part of his vocational auto mechanics training.

Mr. Mayes, Vocational Auto Mechanics instructor, demonstrates how to balance tires.

Brent Alford and Todd Johns use an engine hoist to take the engine out of a truck for rebuilding.

Troy Lukens watches as Chad Klakamp slides a 2x4 onto a workbench.

The two-year building trades program is supervised by Mr. Paul Umberger. It is a three hour class in which students build for someone in the Pendleton community. This year, students are building a house for Mr. Broughton, Pendleton Heights Athletic Director. Most construction and interior work is done by the students.

Help Students Prepare for Jobs

Home-Ec Sizzles in '87

The Vocational Home-Ec department includes many different classes. They range from Child Development and Food Preparation to International Relations and Housing. All classes are taught by either Mrs. Snodgrass or Ms. Miller.

Ms. Miller explains how to "get the spot out" to Michael Huddleston in the spot removal clinic.

Rachael Vandebrock and Michael Huddleston decide which chemicals to use for their clothing stains.

Scott Wilson and Mandy Sumpter hurry and finish washing dishes before the bell rings.

Amy Mingle and Marcia Palmer get organized for a busy day in the lab.

In the Administrative Support Training Center and Co-Op program, business students receive on-the-job training in secretarial areas. These areas include subjects in the accounting field, clerical, and all secretarial fundamentals.

The main idea behind the center is to train the students well enough to place them in a full time job right after graduation.

Jessica Pauley is set up for machine transcription.

RUNNING AWAY WITH 100 WINS

Here Sally Henderson, Cristie Mott, Jennifer Nivens, Stephanie Chaney and Joy Phillips wait for the start of the 1600 meter run.

GIRLS' TRACK Front Row: Diana Lepper (mgr.), Jill Gasparovic, Pam Brown, Carla Conner, Theresa Paulie, Janie Sharrit, Joy Phillips, Jennifer Creason, Pam Crye, Ivy Snider, Lori Fox, Trecia Holloway. Row 2: Beth Fouse (mgr.), Jennifer Nivens, Jill Wihebrink, Tisha Franklin, Carla Clifton, Patty Chezem, Amber Douglas, Judy James, Julie Robbinson, Kim Grubb, Kim Clifton, Deana Rumler, Jennifer Crye, Kellie Snider, Sally Henderson. Row 3: Wendi Borden (mgr.), Jan Phillips, Christie Mott, Andrea Cook, Colleen Shug, Stacey James, Kim Gaskell, Mychela Brandle, Emi Hatcher, Carol Rhoades, Misty Robbins, Stephanie Chaney, Jennifer Morgan, Shelain Neeley, Lora Wolverton (mgr.), Amanda Scott (mgr.), Coach Jewell, Coach Rhoades.

It takes both agility and strength for shot put throwing. Here Kim Clifton displays both to the fullest extent.

Here Carla Conner hands off the baton to Mychaela Brandle as they run the 1600 relay.

The Lady Arabians soared to victory as they captured their 100th win since 1977. For nine years our Pendleton Heights girls' track team accumulated win after win in dual and triangular meets. Much credit goes to Coach Rhoades for putting together the undefeated program, but the girls are the ones who made it happen.

During the 1986 season, Carla Conner, sectional champ of shot put and discus throwing, was also regional champ in the discus and placed 7th in the state. Other individual sectional champs were: Amber Douglas in the 300 meter hurdles, Trecia Holloway at the long jump, and Stephanie Chaney in the 1600 meter run. Jill Gasparovic, Jennifer Creason, Ivy Snider and Trecia Holloway were the 400 meter relay team. The Spirit Award went to Judy James. The MVP award went to Carla Conner. The captains were Carla Conner and Theresa Paulie.

In full stride Judy James concentrates on her jump as she approaches the hurdle.

The 1986 boys' track season was a successful one to say the least. They finished 28-11 over-all, including invitationals. John Pryor won the Spirit Award and Joe Gooding received the honor of Most Valuable Player.

Travis Bunnell broke the freshman 400 meter record with a timing of 50:95 while the team of Donal Matheny, David Southgate, Travis Bunnell and Cory Moore broke the 400 meter relay in 47:1.

The head coach of the boys was Mr. Jim Noggle and assistant coaches were Randy Sellers and George King.

Top Right: Eric Wiggins passes to Scott Herr and proves that teamwork always means success.

Middle: Joe Gooding gives it his all as an Anderson competitor watches in awe.

Botton Right: Anxious fans wonder who will be first. Will it be Joe Gooding or Scott Herr?

Chris Hoafer warms up before a big meet.

Mr. Broughten keeps his eye on the watch as the Arabians pass the finish line.

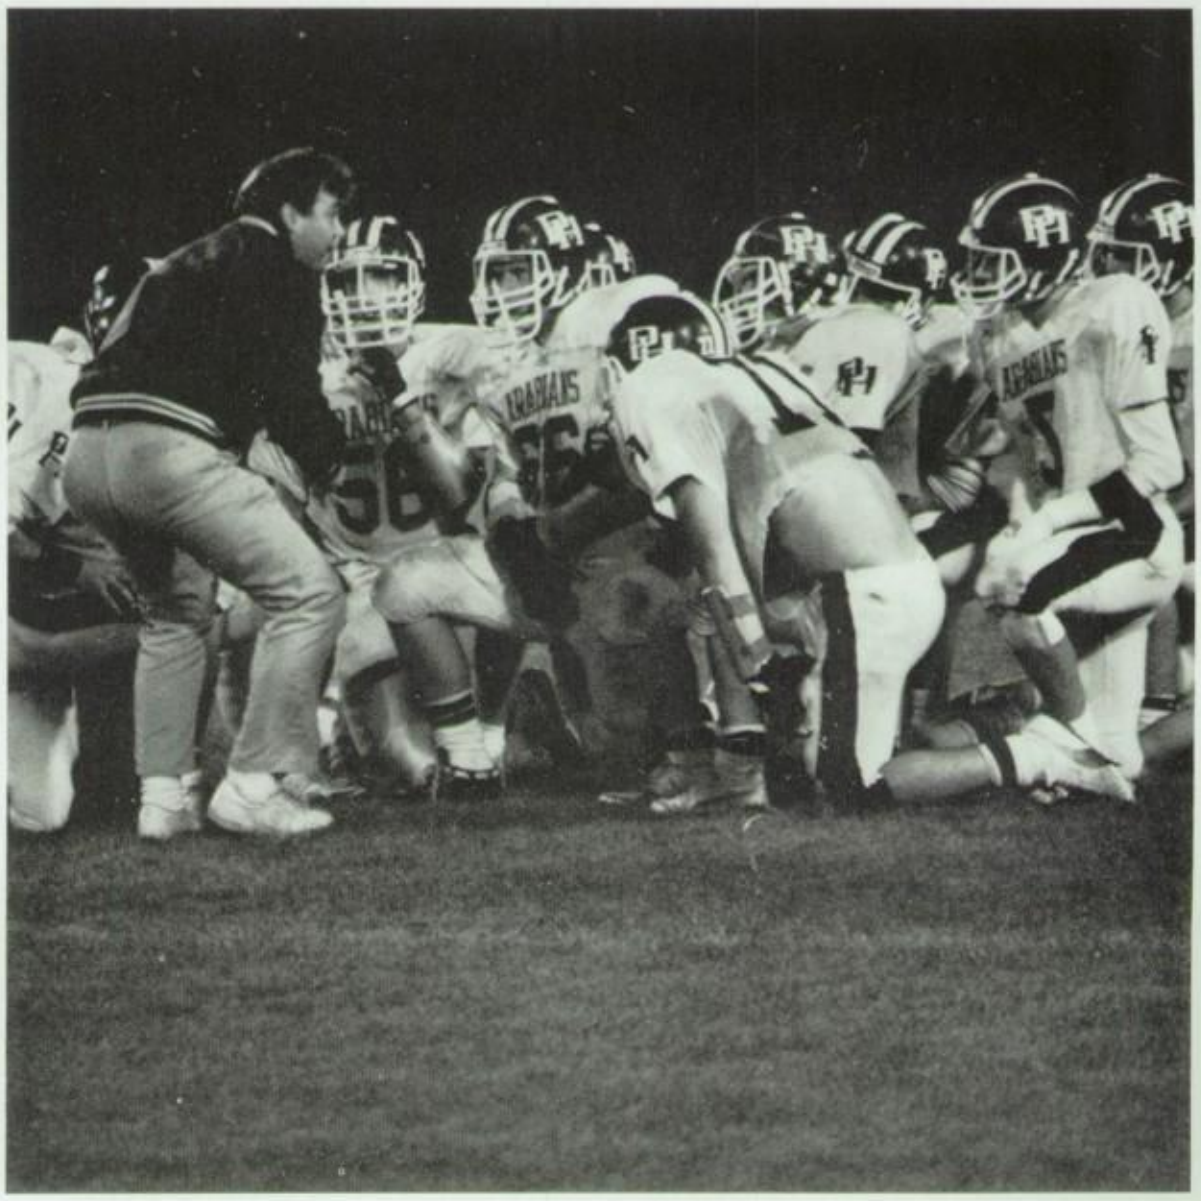
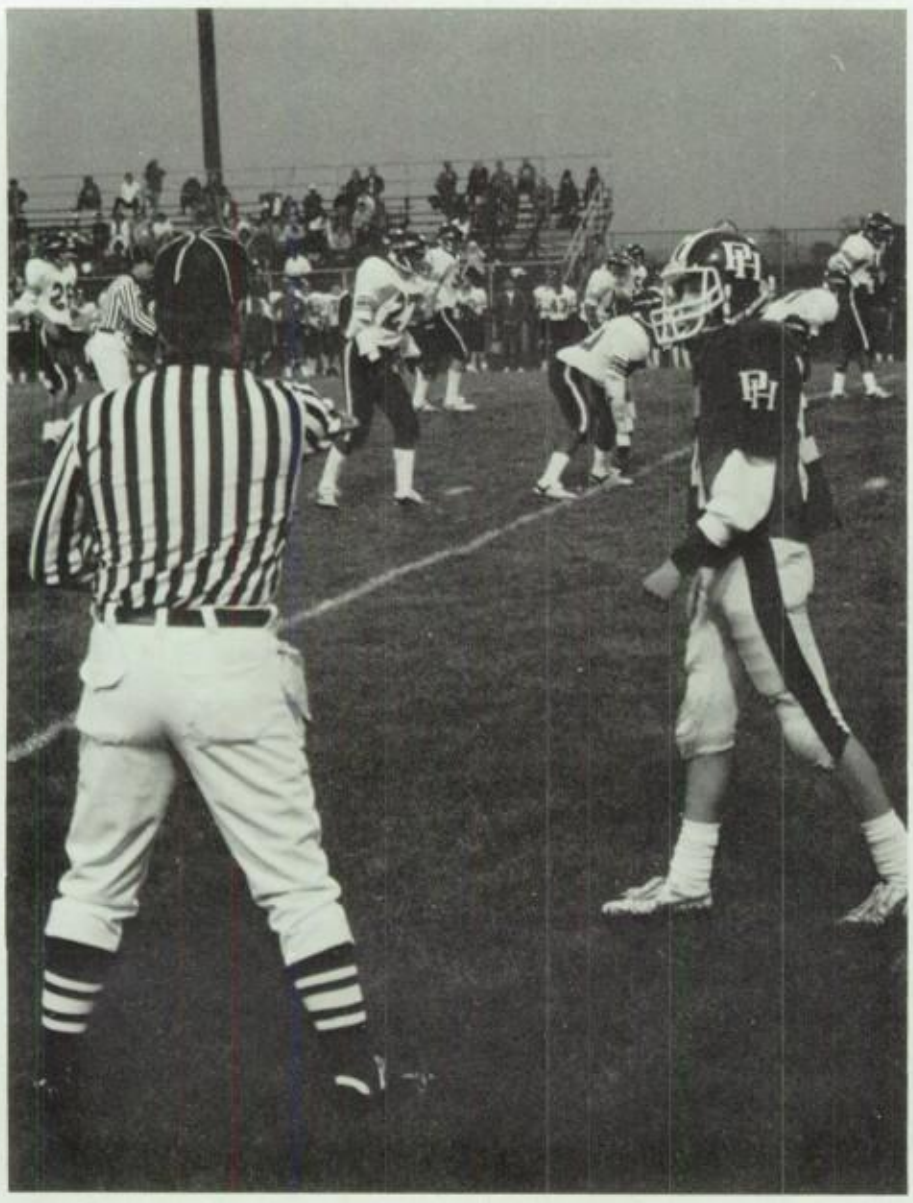
Mike "Moondog" Moore cuts to the outside for big yardage.



Coach Broughton lead the way with words of strategy and enthusiasm.



Senior Sean Shirley prepares for an upcoming play.

The Arabian Football team had quite an emotional year ending with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. The year started great, going 5 and 0, beating neighboring competition badly and bringing back the fever Arabian Football had started a long time ago. Spirit Award winner Jeff Rector, Roy Rankin Trophy winner Jeff Kincade, Troy Robbins memorial award winner Steve Quiggins, and Rob Cooper with the M.V.P. lead the way to a winning season. Rob Cooper also dominated the record charts with 4 new records including a 93 yard kickoff return against Chatard.

The Freshmen also worked hard to become the best Freshman Football Team ever with a record of 7 and 1. "Everyone's talking football," in the words of Jeff Rector, "Some heads are gonna roll!"

The Arabian Defensive linemen play a tough game.

The Arabian relay team edges out the competition with a powerful backstroke start.

Freshman, Missi Minton, concentrates on her race ahead and anticipates a successful swim.

Proving her speed and skill in the freestyle event is senior Andrea Hoppes.

The Arabian swimmers had a terrific season. The girls tied for sixth place in the IHSAA sectional held at Anderson High School. Perservering through numerous morning practices, thousands of yards, and nagging injuries these girls showed their fantastic spirit and dedication.

Freshman Ellen Tescher broke the record in the 200 I.M. and was also awarded MVP for the year. Jayne Coughlan provided fantastic leadership for the team and served as the 1986-87 senior captain. Freshman Janice Coughlan was awarded the Arabians Booster Spirit Award.

The coaches were Suzanne Workman and Todd Lebo, and managers were Brenda Walters and Rebecca Witcher. These Arabian girls set and achieved many goals. They can tell you that anyone can swim, but it takes an Arabian to win.

ARABIANS ACE ROYALS!

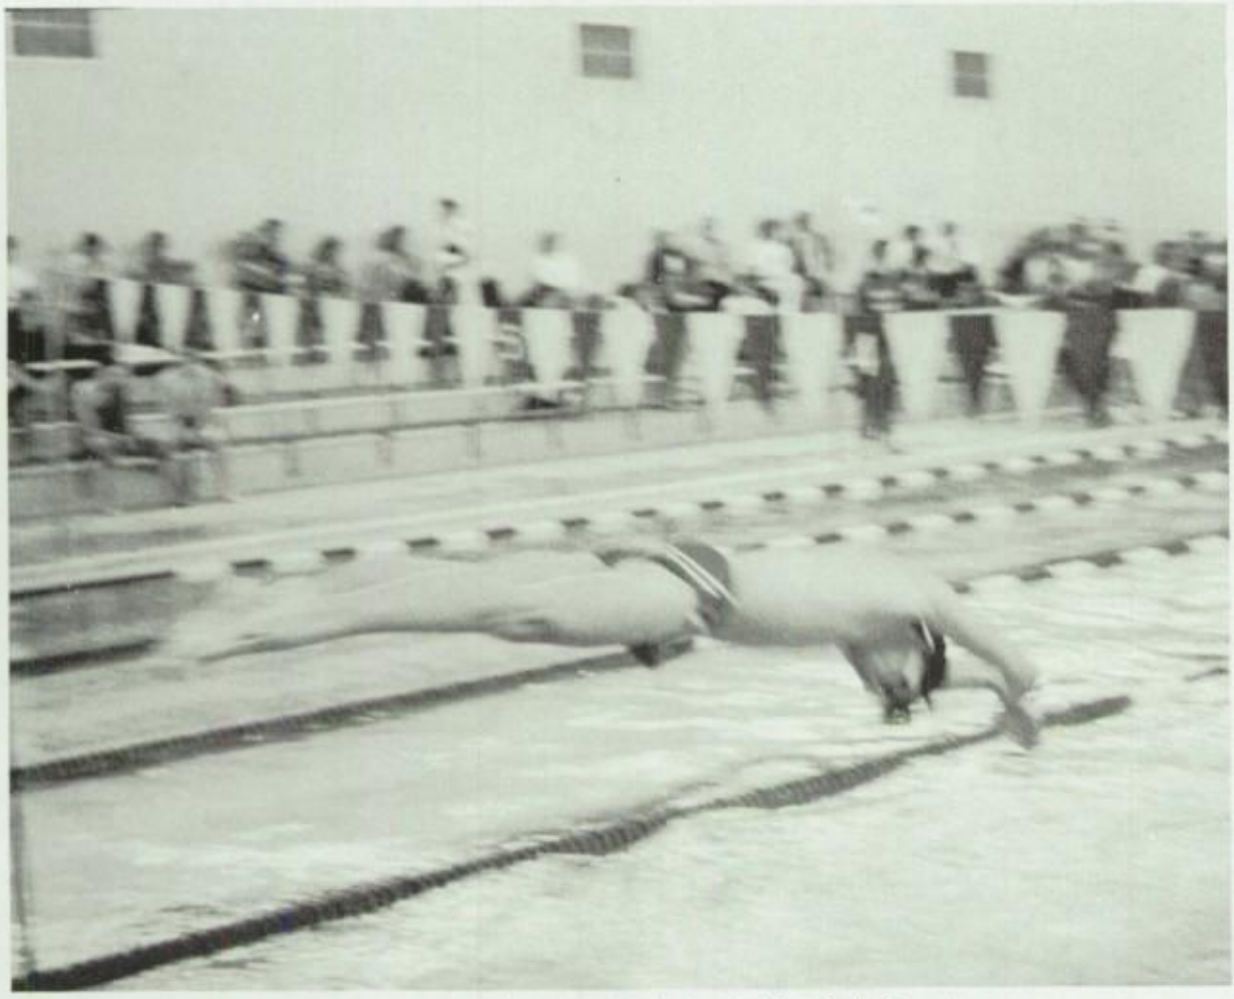
Kris Crawford goes for an Arabian victory in the backstroke.

Kris Crawford leaves the block for a great start.

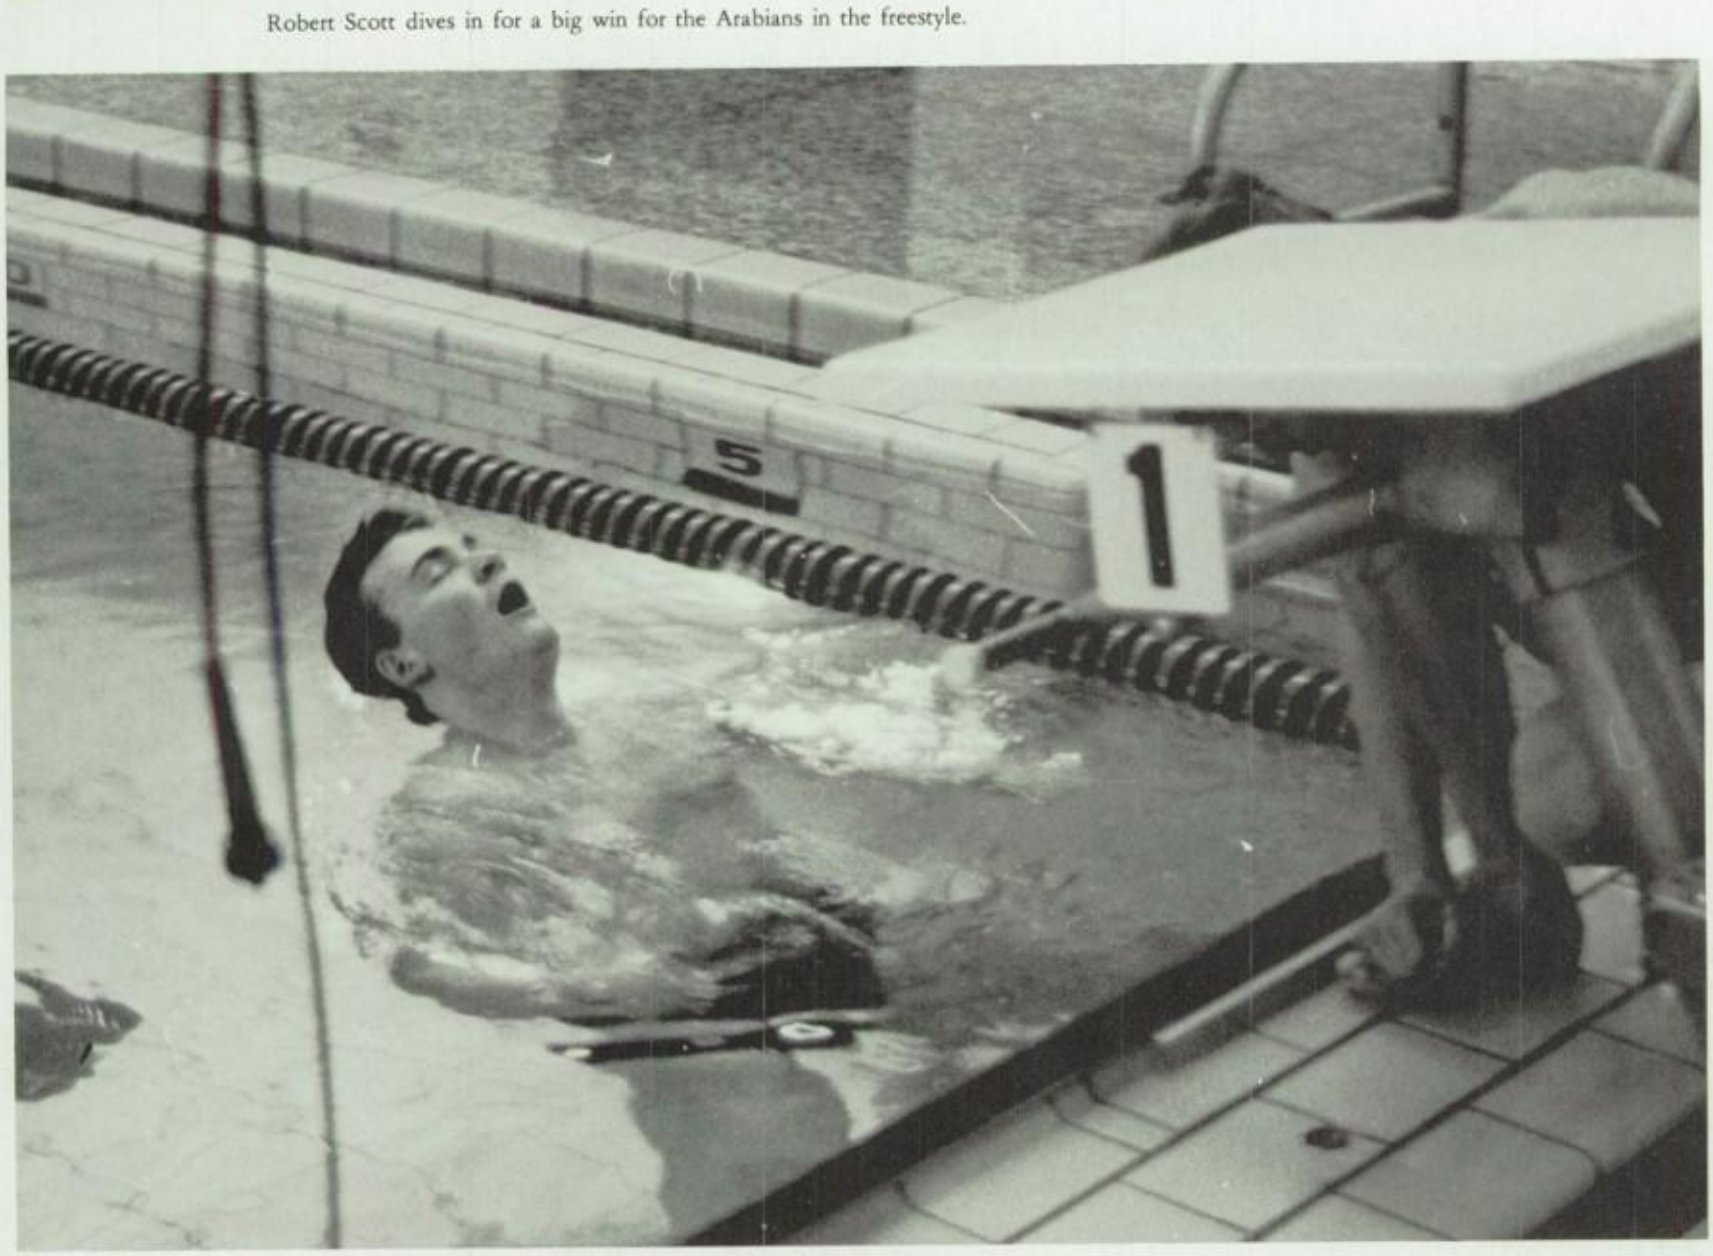
CHALLENGES OF ARABIAN SWIMMING



Robert Scott dives in for a big win for the Arabians in the freestyle.

Boys' swimming was highlighted this year by many different things. One was Joe Goodings' diving record; he received a 236.6 which was a new school record.

The most outstanding swimmer was Leonard Kraus and the spirit award went to Tom Cox. The managers were Jessica Porter and Randy Johnson.



Kris Crawford gives a sigh of relief after a long, hard, race.

Arabian Basketball Takes Charge

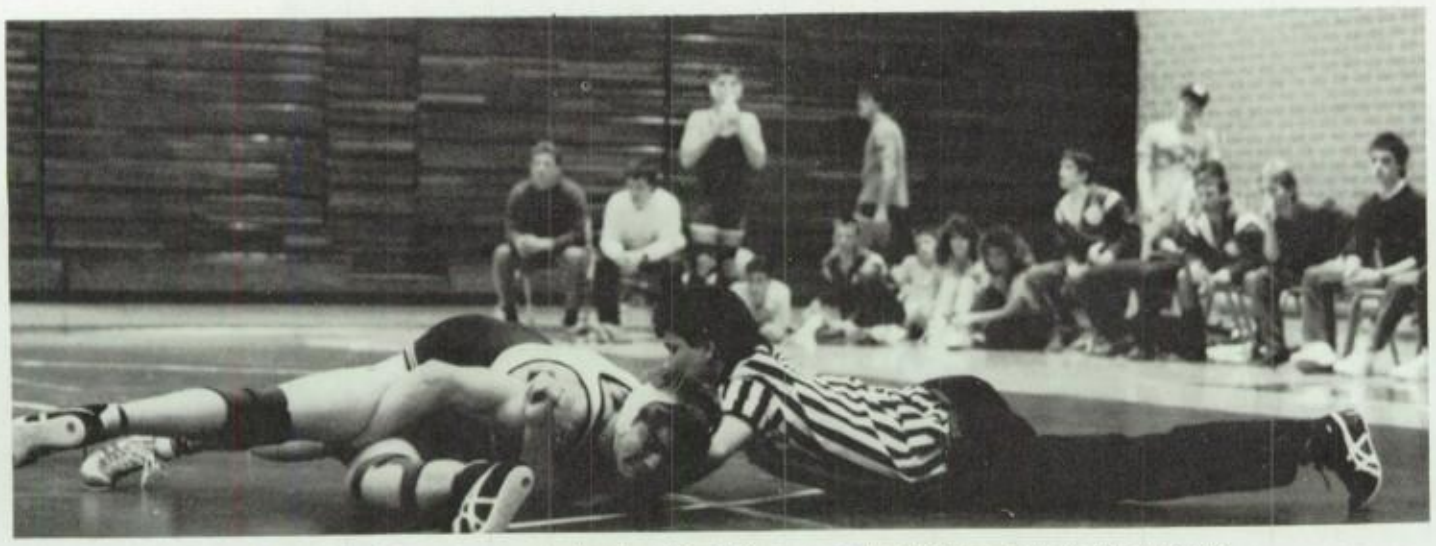
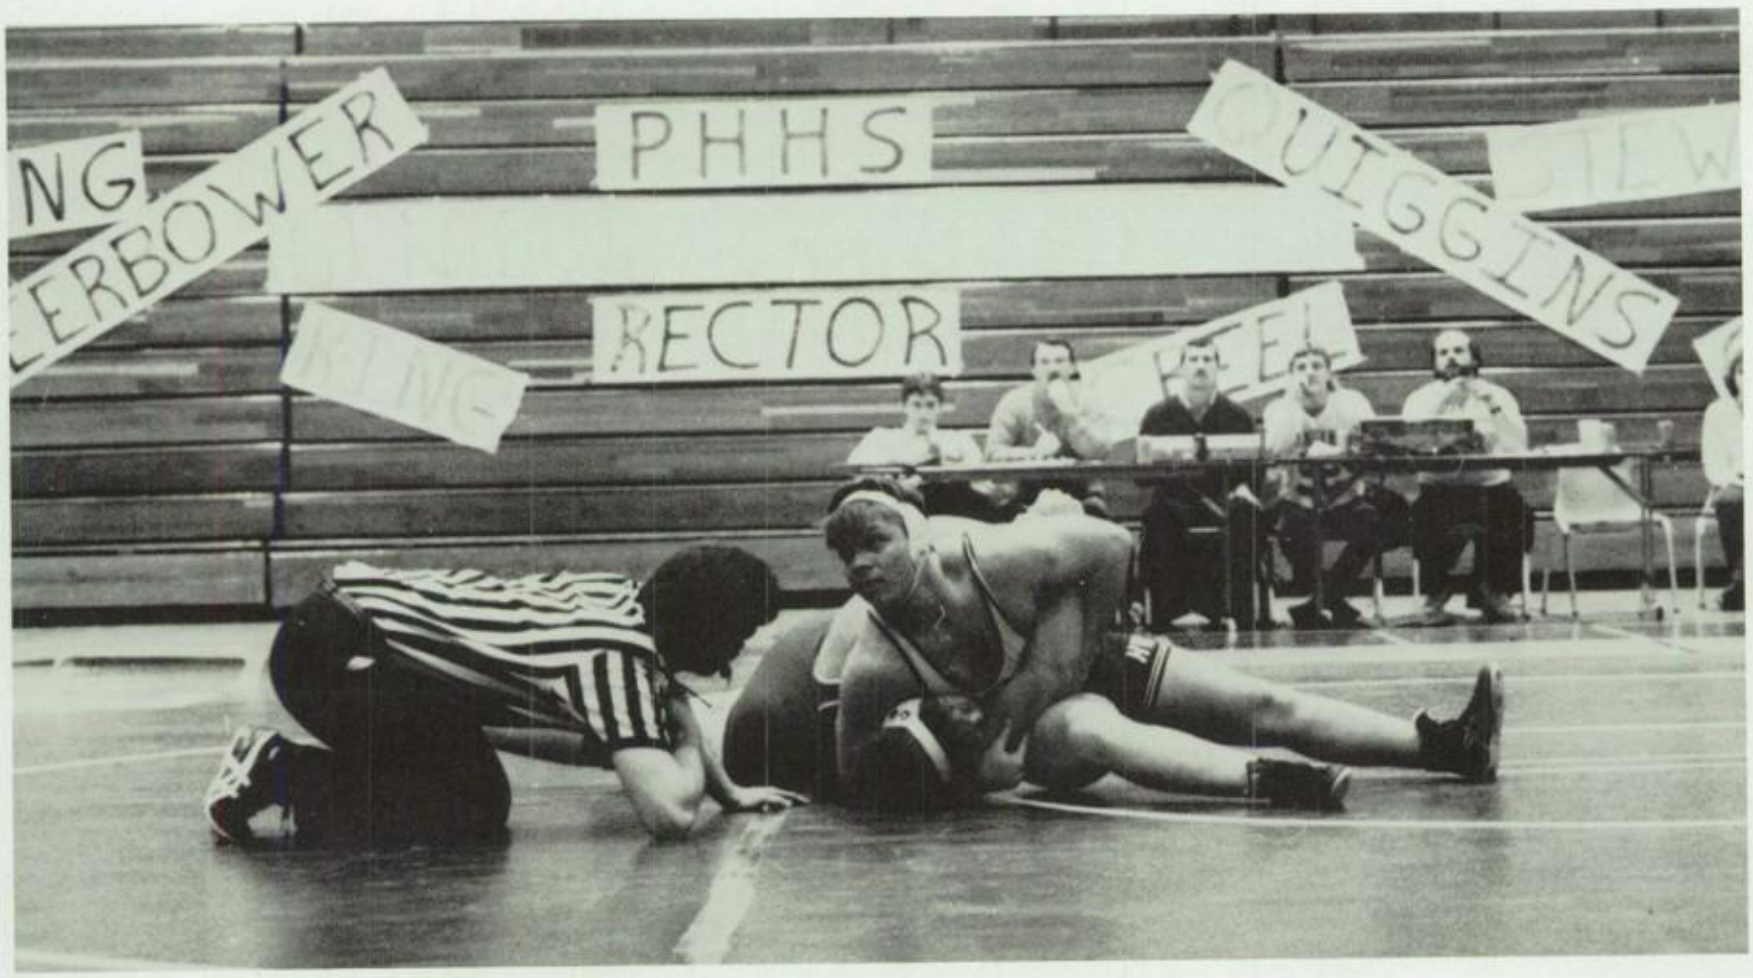
ARABIAN WRESTLING



Regional Finalist and state ranked senior, David Creek, puts the finishing move on his opponent.

Warm-ups are an essential part of wrestling, right Kevin?

The Arabians Varsity Wrestlers had an exciting season with the best dual meet record ever. Besides a clean sectional victory, individually ten grapplers won twenty or more matches. Tom Chezem and Steve Quiggins won thirty of their matches. David Creel achieved an all state status and competed in the state finals.



Senior Brent Alford finishes off another opponent in the heavy-weight class.

TRADING PLACES

The 1985-86 school year at Pendleton Heights proved to be exciting and different for Leila Robinson, art teacher at Pendleton, and Brendon Boylan, art teacher in Manchester, England. They both experienced the thrill of the Fulbright teacher exchange program.

After a year and a half of working, planning and waiting, the Boylan family arrived in New York City March 9, 1986. Their first night in New York will probably never be forgotten. The Boylans went out to dinner and sight seeing only to come back to their hotel room that had been robbed of over $1000 worth of personal belongings.

Even after they arrived in Pendleton, they faced yet another problem. The first day Mr. Boylan taught at Pendleton Heights central Indiana was struck with severe thunder storms and even a tornado touch downs near by. This was really a shock because they do not have this kind of weather in Manchester, England.

Mr. Boylan was surprised when he walked into his first class and saw so much colorful clothing, kids wearing makeup, and chewing gum. At his school in Manchester, students wear uniforms, no makeup, and there is no gum chewing or eating candy at school. Another big difference in the schools is their schedules for the day. At Mr. Boylan's school, classes start at 9:00 a.m. and end at 4:00 p.m. and students only attend each class once a week. The classes last 35 to 75 minutes with a 15 minute passing period. They also enjoy a 75 minute lunch period.

The Boylans were also amazed at the number of student cars. They said that only a few of the elite students had cars in England and most families own just one car, if any. The Boylans just bought their first car in 1983. While staying in Pendleton they were given a rental car courtesy of Boles Chevrolet, and they lived at Mrs. Robinson's home while she stayed in theirs in Manchester.

"I can't explain how much fun, nor how fulfilling this experience was to me . . ."

Before the Boylans left America, they visited San Francisco, Chicago, Kings Island, The Indy 500, the birthplace of Bruce Springsteen (because Mrs. Boylan is a big fan of his), and a Cincinnati Reds game. The most exciting experience for their two-year-old daughter Rachel was seeing Mickey Mouse at Disneyland.

Meanwhile in Manchester, England, Mrs. Robinson was getting a few surprises of her own. Mrs. Robinson says the biggest bonus and plus of the trip was how wonderful the people were to she and her husband. Although there were problems, such as the Libya Crisis, which caused an Anti-American sentiment, and the incredibly cold, damp rainy weather of Northern England, this did not dampen her feelings toward England.

As earlier mentioned, in England many people do not own cars. Mrs. Robinson described excellent transportation by bus services, trains, taxis, and bikes. She also states that most people in England live in attached housing; very few live in "detached houses" or single family dwellings, as we do. That type of housing is very expensive.

When asked her opinion of the teacher exchange program, Mrs. Robinson said it's an excellent opportunity for professional and personal growth and "a very people-to-people approach to international understanding." She also states, "I can't explain how much fun, nor how fulfilling this experience was to me as an American, a teacher, an artist and most of all, a person."

The Boylans regularly correspond with their American friends since their return to England. On December 10, 1986, they welcomed their new "American" baby and named him Damian Lawrence Pendleton Boylan. Mr. Boylan writes, "Knowing of our wonderful memories and experiences, it would be wonderful to be able to turn the clock back and re-live it all again. I wouldn't change any of it — perhaps make it six months instead of three."

Mrs. Leila Robinson, Art teacher and department chairman at Pendleton Heights, received a 1986 Fulbright Teacher Exchange Award.

Brendon and Sheilagh Boylan unselfishly gave many hours speaking with students and community organizations.

He also said, "I never envisaged that it would have made such lasting impressions. There is not a day that goes by that I do not think about our time spent in Pendleton. It is hard to express in words what I feel in my heart."

"I never envisaged that it would have made such lasting impressions . . . It is hard to express in words what I feel in my heart."

to remember . . .

approximately 100 students joined together to form Alternatives In Motion to say "no" to drugs

the Homecoming Parade was rained out once before the Sophomore's spectacular winning float was seen students learned and grew together at the Second Annual Leadership Camp

Girls' Basketball had a strong team and played in the final game of the sectional

David Creel wrestled to a fine finish in the state wrestling finals

Ellen Tescher, Freshman, broke the school's swimming record for the 200 yard Individual Medley

Charlotte Provost, Junior, broke the Girls' Basketball record by scoring an incredible 36 points in one game our Beta Talent Act was #1 in the state again and will move on to national competition

sweats dominated the school attire school spirit soared as the Arabian Boys' Basketball team defeated the Anderson Indians in the semi-final sectional game for the first time in 40 years

-Steve-
I haven't known you for that long of a time, but the time I've known you, has been a blast. Well I won't see you next year but I wish you all the luck in the world.
Love + Friends

Steve
Hey guy, looks like we're done. Good luck with everything.
Friends,
Chris King

Steve
to a real great friend I got to know real well this year. The bus won't gonna be the same. I'll be so lonely! No one to pick on. Even though you have stupid friends that get on my nerves (Greg) Good luck in the future and in whatever ya'll do.
love-n-friends
Chrish

-Steve-
Hey, you're a real sweet guy! I'm glad I've gotten to know you this year in typing class. Good Luck w/ everything in life! Can you believe we're actually out of this place?
♡ ya,
Lori

Steve
Hey bud! Thanks a lot for bugging me all the time. Just teasing! You're a really sweet guy. Good Luck in the army! You could keep in if you wanted!
Love ya,
Mary

Steve:
You're a strange guy (I like ya!) I come to [illegible] lot picking on me in lunch and
during the morning walk
[illegible], but I forgive you You're a nice guy. Say hi to Dale for me! Keep in touch!
Love,
Nette (me & [illegible] person)

Steve
To a real cool guy and someone who thinks that I made the right choice about liking
Karen. Good luck in the army and be all you can be. (Army ad.)

Steve -
Glad you moved back! It's been nice knowing you in
soc. Take care &
in whatever you do have fun!
Your friend,
Shannon

Have fun in [illegible] #5
Rod

HAPPY HUNTING

Stew
I hardly know you,
but I hope you
do well in the future. Have fun when you get out of here.
Friends Ignatia

Steve
Well Steve, we didn't really click Glad we became such good friends. I hope you stay out of trouble.
& really you are an "ass"
But you really are a great guy!
I wish you all the luck in the world!!
Love & friends always

Congratulations
on being a PHHS grad!
you are so lucky to have a friend like me!
Ha Ha.

Stephen, it's been real fun in typing
even though you did drive me and Lisa nuts. We forgive you
thanks for being a friend
Good luck to all you do. Keep in touch. Love & friends
Love Frank!
Karen
